WHEELING, ELK GROVE TAX BITE $2,200,000

The Editor's column

William Annen, Arlington Heights, may be old enough to have served as Wheeling township tax collector 20 years, but he has discovered that he is not too old to get a good case of mumps and just at tax time. That is why he was unable to attend the town meeting Monday night.

A restaurant owner asked us, "why is it that school teachers invariably read between the lines of a menu in order to order something that is not supposed to be on order that day?"

We have the answer. Those school teachers are by nature housekeepers. As embryo housewives they are interested in meal variety. To make everybody happy, we suggest that they furnish the restaurant cook every Friday with a suggested menu for the following week.

Palatine taxpayers received personal property schedules in the same mail last week as tax bills. They did not even have a chance to pay their 1952 taxes before they are reminded that the collection machinery is now grinding out data for their 1953 tax payment.

We discovered at the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce dinner last Thursday that there is an Arlington Heights businessman so honest that last year he refused to pay his tax bill because it was too low. He wanted his new home also assessed.

The county office did just that—his honesty cost him over $300. His name? Let's call him "Charlie, the realtor."

We have done a lot of wishful thinking in this column about meters and parking lots and we are still wishful so we cannot resist passing on this bit of info.

The village of Palatine is widening one side of a business street, building a block long cement wall along Railroad right of way to be screened by shrubs. Meter funds are paying for it all

We will be interested in the Palatine experiment with that railroad park wall. The village expects to install shopping meters on the property. Will the railroad company stand for it? Even if the village pays for the improvement? We hope so.

We note the state supreme court has ruled in favor of an ordinance requiring specified parking areas for all new store building, apartments and homes. Both Arlington Heights political parties are promising new zoning ordinances. They are too busy getting elected, but how about passing an ordinance that will require an off street parking area for every new home and for every business block. (We would say industrial plant, but we are not going to have any.)

Confidential: If the householder whose address starts with the number 22 . . . So. . . . . street, who has been dumping garbage on West Campbell street will call at the publication office, we will gladly turn over to him the evidence. Or did your neighbor surreptitiously include your address in his package of garbage?

We do not know the size of the tax bill of Virgil Horath, Shell dealer on the highway at Arlington Heights, but he is still happy. He told us Monday: "After looking at my new tax bill, I just realized that if it were not for taxes and women I would be a millionaire—but I love them both."

Checking a report that a local tavern was selling liquor to minors, two detectives spent two days in town last week. They found there was no grounds for the report which makes this editor happy he did not jump the gun.

A local teenager told us the other day that boys are naturally curious. After a Chicago newspaper exposed certain goings-on along Milwaukee avenue joints, they organized a slumming party to see what it was all about. Sometimes the cure is worse than the bite.

A salesman in a Chicago store told a customer the other day, "I will soon move from Park Ridge to Arlington Heights. I have been a subscriber to Arlington Heights Herald over a year and thought that a town which supported such a good newspaper would be a good community in which to reside." (Thanks, Mister, we will be as glad to have you as a neighbor as well as a subscriber.)

Have Palatine businessmen lost their chivalry? Last fall they accepted defeat with smiles at the hands of a local girls' baseball team. Saturday night they were on the basketball court with many of those same girls. The score? 36 to 36. Just think how happy those girls would be if an extra point had been added to their side of the score board.

Two weeks more and residents of Wheelin, township can compare their tax valuations. Its publication slated for A[illegible] 18 will require 16 full [illegible]. That will take a lot of [illegible] but we predict many [illegible] owners will take the time to check up on their neighbors.

North Mt. Prospect Pays Highest Tax Rate In Wheeling Township

The highest tax rate paid in Wheeling township this year will be $3.73 per hundred dollars of assessed valuation. The lowest rate in the township for the same period of time is $1.814 per hundred. The high tax rate area embraces that portion of Mount Prospect that lies within school district 25, high school district 214, and the Sanitary district of Chicago. The low rate area is that portion of school district 26 that lies within the non-high territory.

Total tax rates are determined by adding the rates applicable to each taxing district within which the property is located. The tax bill is computed by multiplication of the assessed valuation and the total tax rate.

The groupings of the school districts, villages, fire protection districts, park districts and sanitary districts this year result in 49 different combinations of rates, hence 49 different total tax rates for the township. Of the 49 possible total rates, four range from the low of $1.814 to $2.00 per hundred; 28 range from $2.00 to $3.00; 10 range from $3.00 to $3.50; seven range from $3.50 to the high rate of $3.73.

ALL TAXABLE property in Wheeling township is levied upon this year by the County of Cook, the Cook County Forest Preserve district, the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium district and the Wheeling Township Road and Bridge district. These districts provide services which are paid for by all property owners in Wheeling township, at the same rate of tax and will be referred to as "group one services" hereafter since their cost is constant within the township. The total cost of group one services to the taxpayer is $.544 per hundred dollars as follows:

County of Cook	$.354
Cook Co. Forest Preserve	.038
TB Sanitarium District	.076
Wheeling Twp. R & B	.076
TOTAL	$.544

In addition to the group one services, taxpayers in the high cost area pay taxes to the sanitary district of Chicago, the village of Mount Prospect, school district 25, and high school district 214 which cost an additional $3.186. When added to the cost of group one services, a total rate of $3.730 is produced as follows:

Group one service cost	$.544
Sanitary District	.276
Village of Mt. Prospect	.556
Arlington Hts. H. S.	.876
School district 25	1.478
Total rate, high cost area	$3.730

The homeowner in this area who has been assessed $7,500 will pay a tax bill this year of $279.75; the householder with a $10,000 assessment will pay $373.

Taxpayers in the low rate area will pay their $.544 for group one services; the only other taxes that they pay are for the support of school district 26 and the non-high school district since they do not fall within a regular operating district. Their total tax bill looks like this:

Group one service cost	$ .544
School district 26	.522
Non-high school district	.748
Total rate, low cost area	$1.814

THE TAXPAYER with a $7,500 assessment in this area pays a bill of $136.05, some $143.70 less than his neighbor in the high tax area. The property owner with the $10,000 assessment in this area will pay $181.40, just $191.60 less than his neighbor in the high cost area.

The second and third highest rates in the township are close to the top rate area. Property which lies within the village of Mount Prospect, the Sanitary District of Chicago, the Arlington Heights high school district, school district 57 and which is still liable for a pro rata share of the bonded indebtedness carried over from district 26, pays a total rate of $3.184 for these services, which when added to the group one service cost, totals $3.728. The third highest rate area is serviced by all the districts as the second highest rate area with this one exception: there is no carry-over from district 26 of the $.022 rate for retirement of outstanding bonded debt. This difference makes the third highest rate in the township total up to $3.706 per one hundred dollars of assessment.

To the property owner who wishes to figure out what rate of tax he is paying on his property, the following procedure is suggested: divide the total amount of the tax bill (both installments) by the amount of the assessed valuation. Multiply this result by 100 (or move the decimal point two places to the right) in order to arrive at the rate per hundred dollars of assessment. The assessed valuation of the taxpayers' property is clearly indicated on the tax bill, as is the amount of each installment.

Pro Shop, Stock Destroyed At Old Orchard Fire

The pro shop at Old Orchard Country club, Rand rd. and Rt. 83, southwest of Prospect Hts., was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning. Damage to the building and equipment was estimated at $4,000.

The fire was first noticed by a Prospect Meadows resident who phoned the Prospect Heights fire department about the same time that the greens keeper, James Service, noticed the fire and sounded an alarm. One of the Prospect Heights fireman, Jack Sargent, also noticed the blaze on the way home from meeting the midnight train in Mount Prospect, and arrived at the fire station at the same time the fire were being reported.

By the time the firemen arrived all of the east wall, half of the south wall and the roof were already gone. Ben Riley, golf pro, had just stocked the shop with new equipment the day before. Fortunately some of the new golf clubs had been stored in the safe and were not damaged.

Cause of the fire is undetermined, but it is believed it started on the east side of the building.

ARLINGTON Heights firemen were kept busy the past six days answering six fire calls, 3 of them Monday. Four of the six calls were prairie fires.

March 26 they answered a call in the 500 block on S. Dryden, where boys, playing with matches, had set a prairie on fire. March 29 they attended two prairie fires, one at 1104 N. Highland in the morning, and another on S. Ridge, south of Campbell, in the afternoon.

Monday calls took the firemen to the C. E. Jarvis home, 1327 N. State, where the basement was filled with smoke due to a burning motor. No serious damage resulted. The second fire was another prairie blaze at 101 N. Hickory, where flames were endangering the Etna Supply building. The last call was a silent alarm, which was handled by two men, who extinguished a chimney fire at the Bernard Brehm home, 731 N. Pine.

Park Districts To Hold Election April 7

Four park districts in this area will hold elections April 7, in conjunction with the township elections.

There is one candidate running in each district and none are opposed. All township polling places will be open from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m., but there is a specific polling place for each one of the four park district elections.

William E. Spomer is the only candidate on the Arlington Heights Park District ballot. He is running for a six year term. Polling place is the Arlington Heights field house, 500 E. Miner st.

Albert C. Drewes is running for the office of park commissioner of the Wheeling Rural Park District. The polling place is at his home, Buffalo Grove rd., Wheelin township.

Richard Abrahamson is a candidate for park commissioner of the Palatine park district. Polling place is the Palatine village hall, 54 S. Brockway.

Irving Rohde is running for the office of park commissioner of the Palatine Rural park district. Polling place is at the District 18 school house, located at the intersection of Ela and Algonquin rds., Palatine township.

Driver, Blinded By Headlights, Wrecks Auto

The 1949 Oldsmobile of Leslie Earl Ray, 31, of 3603 Linneman ave., Glenview, was demolished Sunday morning, when it left the road and overturned several times. Ray suffered an injured left leg but was not seriously hurt.

The driver was traveling north on State rd., Arlington Heights, and after rounding the bend north of Central rd., he was blinded by oncoming headlights. He lost control of the car, which left the pavement about 200 feet south of Orchard st., turned over twice and ended up against a tree. No property damage resulted.

Arlington police officers handled the accident and Ray was taken to the Glenview naval hospital for treatment, since he is stationed at the base. Arlington Fender and Body shop cleared the wreckage.

The steeple on the new Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, was raised March 25. It is 85 feet high, weighs about 4,000 lbs., and is made of aluminum instead of the usual copper, due mainly to the fact copper was not available. The steeple was not built on the job as is usually done, but was assembled at the factory, delivered here intact and then erected to its place by a crane. There is a Celtic Cross at the top, the circle symbolizing the everlasting life.

No Objectors To Widening of Campbell St.

At a public hearing held by the board of local improvements on the widening of Campbell st., which improvement will cost in the neighborhood of $48,000, there were no objectors present. A number of questions were asked of Attorney Thal and the engineer.

With the willingnes of the property owners to proceed at once with no public benefit it is expected that the improvement can be completed by middle summer.

Thirteen mercury lights, costing about $18,000 to be installed with the use of gas tax funds at no cost to property owners must await red tape procedure.

Campbell st., between Dunton and Vail, is 48 feet wide and only corrections will be necessary in that block. The widening project will extend east from Dunton and from Vail to Chestnut.

Schools Need The $275,000 Of Personal Property Taxes

The average tax payer is of course concerned over the size of his personal tax bill. He wants to be ceratin that he is not paying more than his just share. Paddock Publications cannot answer that question but it has secured some interesting figures regarding the amount of taxes that the various taxing bodies would receive if everybody paid his taxes.

The total of all tax bills, which are in the hands of Collector Annen, of Wheeling township is $1,761,336. Collector Charles Walters of Elk Grove township has $627,652 on his books.

Until the state legisalture provides some teeth in the law regarding collection of personal property taxes, there can be written off from that total $229,000 in Wheeling township that may land in the waste basket, except that portion assessed against corporations. In Elk Grove township the total personal property tax is $48,000.

Total tax figures of each taxing body in Wheeling and Elk Grove townships appear on page four.

It is no secret that the greater part of the tax dollars go to the education of children. Here are the exact figures, including the possible loss to local schools because of the waste baskets full of personal property bills:

Arlington Heights high school district collects taxes from three townships. Mt. Prospect elementary school gets over $80,000 from tax payers of Wheeling township. The following figures give the township source of the taxes and the amount of personal property taxes, comparison of which gives an idea as to the importance of payment of the latter.

Township Elections Tuesday; Few Contests

Next Tuesday is election day in all townships in the state of Illinois. It is also election day in many of the park districts.

In Wheeling township all 20 precincts will be open. Present township officers, with two new constable candidates are candidates of the People's party.

Their only opposition is two independents for justices of the peace. The candidates on both tickets are presenting their qualifications in two page advertisements in this issue.

The office of highway commissioner is the only office being contested in Palatine township. Ed. Senne is opposing Raymond Holtzee, the present incumbent. The only polling place will be in the Masonic hall.

Almost the same condition prevails in Elk Grove township where there are two independent candidates for tax collector in opposition to Arnold Scharringhausen. Four polling places will be open.

Schaumburg township has two candidates for tax collector. They are Henry Dohl and Albert F. Hartmann. Mr. Dohl says that reports that he intended to withdraw are not true. "I started as a candidate and I am going to remain one," says Dohl.

Information on the park district election appears in a separate article.

Tax Collectors Open Collection Offices

Offices of Palatine, Elk Grove and Wheeling township tax collectors are now open for business for the collection of the 1952 real estate and personal property taxes.

Local collectors are asking payments be made by April 25, penalty date on the first payment is May 1.

Taxpayers of Wheeling township may pay bills starting April 6 at the Arlington Heights National Bank through April 28, except April 11 and April 23 at the Wheeling State Bank, and April 16 at the Mount Prospect State Bank.

Elk Grove bills are payable at Mount Prospect State Bank during banking hours.

Sorry, Mr. Politician

The usual front page space given to campaign news is being taken over this week by Easter services. The publishers make the suggestion that the candidates themselves take time off to read those notices and attend church. The municipal campaign still has two more weeks to run.

Carl Behrens Is New President of Local Chamber

Directors of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce elected Carl M. Behrens president of that organization Tuesday evening. Other officers are Richard W. Black, vice president; Carl W. Weinrich, treasurer; N. M. Hauff, secretary.

John H. Kehe, retiring president, is an ex-officio member of the board. Other members are Don Hartman, Anthony Hesch, Raymond Landmeier and Dan Senne, elected Thursday evening to serve for three years; Victor E. Beisler, George A. Harris, C. A. Hendricksen, whose terms expire at the close of this year; Carl W. Ewert and Walter C. Hansen Jr., whose terms with those of the president and vice president expire next year.

NEARLY A HUNDRED members of the chamber were guests of that organization last Thursday evening at a dinner, served by the ladies of St. Peter Lutheran church. Secretary Hauff called it a "dividend dinner" because there were no tickets to be purchased.

In the absence of President Kehe, Dave Zimmerman, vice president, acted as master of ceremonies. Newly elected directors introduced were Don Hartman, Anthony Hesch, Raymond Landmeier and Dan Senne.

The event was in reality an annual meeting. Following the presentation of the financial report by the secretary the members realized that Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce was a going concern. The year just passed had been very successful. They were told by Zimmerman that the credit for the financial status of the chamber should go to N. F. Hauff, who took over the chamber when it was at a low ebb and they agreed with him. He took over and has made it a thriving and active organization.

FOR THE BENEFIT of those members who were not present, we will state that the income approached $9,400.

Candidates Meet Voters At Town Meeting

Arlington Heights Community Council is receiving congratulations on the success of its third "election" town meeting held Monday evening for the purpose of introducing to voters the candidates aspiring to local township, school, park district and village offices.

Those who did not avail themselves of the opportu ity to meet the candidates missed an entertaining and pleasant evening. The speakers all confined themselves to their own candidacy and occupied platform seats as one big community family.

The event was arranged by President Don Hartman and N. F. Hauff, chairman. The evening appropriately opened with America and an invocation from Rev. C. Victor Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Rev. Birger Dahl, pastor of the Methodist church acted as moderator. After his announcement of the "rules of the game" and the time limit allotted to each speaker, the town meeting proceeded along the lines of town meetings of old, except that the privilege of talk was confined to those on the platform.

There was no question and answer period, because as Don Hartman said "this was not a political convention." None of the speakers broke the rule of the game and all were roundly applauded. The concensus of opinion seemed to be that it was a worthwhile evening for both candidates and audience. It was regrettable that more voters were not present.

'No Magic Required To Reduce Water Rates' Says Bronwell

"You would think from certain party platform claims that a reduction of water rates was a new idea devised only by that party," says Richard Bronwell, candidate for village trustee of the Arlington Home Party. "However, the Arlington Home Party, pledged as it is to economy, considers water rate reduction, as well as other savings in village services, as just one feature in the overall program of saving home owners tax dollars."

Richard Bronwell gave some interesting facts at the Scarsdale meeting on the water and sewer tax which are of interest to everybody.

"According to publicity one would be lead to believe," says Mr. Bronwell, "that only one party can lower water and sewer taxes. The interesting part of this publicity is that when the water and sewer tax issue came up before the village board part of the opposition party now in office voted for high water and sewer taxes. Now the party is crying they are too high!"

"What are the facts of the matter? The facts are the water and sewer taxes on the basis of present operation can be lowered and the Arlington Home Party proposes to lower them.

"Detailed facts are as follows: On July 7, 1951," says Mr. Bronwell, "the voters of Arlington Heights approved a $250,000 general obligation bond for constructing and installing extensions and improvements to the sewage system and the sewage treatment plant. On that same date the voters also approved a $730,000 revenue bond issue. Of this amount $710,000 was for the purpose of paying the balance of the cost of the construction of improvements and extensions to the combined water works and sewage system, and $20,000 for refunding the balance of outstanding water revenue bonds.

"According to the terms and conditions of the bond issues the following conditions must be met:

"The monthly revenue has to be posted to the following accounts:

1. Operation and maintenance account.
2. Interest and sinking fund account.
3. Bond and interest reserve account — $500 per month until the total reaches $36,000.
4. Contingencies and depreciation account—$500 per month until total reaches $45,000. Any funds withdrawn from this fund are to be subsequently replaced.
5. Balance into surplus account for extensions, maintenance, prepaying bonds, or investment.

"After the bond issues were approved by the voters, the village board was faced with setting the proper rates. They had to be certain there would be enough revenue to meet all of the above bonding provisions, as well as operating expenses. Actuarial figures were obtained through the village engineers, Consoer Townsend and Associates. Also, actual operating figures were obtained from communities such as Barrington, Palatine, Libertyville, west side villages, and Bloomington, Ind. To be on the safe side to be sure to be able to meet the above mentioned obligations, the village board decided to increase the recommended water and sewer tax rates by a small amount until actual operating experience had been gained.

"Since the setting of the tax rates by the village board two things have happened to help the tax situation which were not foreseen. First the new well at Ridge ave. and Miner st. has come in and will pump almost twice as much water as originally planned. Second, there are more water customers than originally estimated.

"After nine months of operation under the new ordinances, it is now apparent that the water and sewer tax rates can be lowered and still meet the terms of the bond issues. The Arlington Home Party can," says Mr. Bronwell, "and will take steps to reduce these taxes to a safe level.

"However, we suggest that this not be done until actual operating costs are at hand on the new well, which is not yet in operation, and on the new addition to the sewage disposal plant. This is still several months away.

"These, voters, are the facts of your water and sewer taxes. There is no hocus pocus about them."

Moose Lodge In Des Plaines Held Up

Three armed men held up the Moose lodge on River rd. north of route 12 Saturday night and escaped with a loot of four slot machines. The lodge, a private club, discouraged non-members with an electrically locked door that is opened from within.

On the night of the robbery, a member, Sig Engh, of 1407 Oakwood, Des Plaines, was repairing the lock when three strange men entered the club behind him and held Engh, Al Nobel, the club manager and two patrons, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Barlow at bay. The thieves disconnected the telephone, demanded the key to the rear door from Nobel and made their getaway in a late model blue sedan.

Promise Of Business Section Improvement Seen By Lattof

"I believe that with proper leadership in our Village government enough interest may be promoted to carry out some of the recommendations for the commercial district that would rehabilitate it and make it possible to give better service to the commuters and to the shoppers."

This was one of the major statements made by Nicholas M. Lattof, speaking at the recent meeting of the Arlington Terrace Property Owners Association, as the candidate of the United Citizens Party for Village Mayor in the elections scheduled for April 21.

"I believe," Lattof said, "that businessmen and others will not hesitate to invest their money when they realize that they have an administration in which they can have confidence and which will not be a stumbling block in the proper development of the community. No one knows better than a businessman that business goes where it is invited and stays where it is well treated.

"It is common knowledge that no improvement that would call for the expenditure of any public funds can be carried out by the Village administration without the approval and sanction of the voters. It is a gross misrepresentation to say that our party plans to initiate a program that would call for the expenditure of millions of dollars. We believe that the citizens of Arlington Heights are intelligent enough to realize that all these false statements are no more than political propaganda and have no basis in fact."

Lattof also made references to alleged inefficiency in the present conduct of the village administration when he said that the United Citizens party believes it is time for a change when it is realized that the village code has not been rewritten since 1929.

He said that his party would give consideration, in such a modernization of codification of village laws, to the Stanton and Rockwell report, but he emphasized again that the opposition party claims of his blanket endorsement of the Stanton and Rockwell plans were due to their unwillingness to understand the planks of the United Citizens party platform.

"The bungling of the past makes it imperative," Lattof said, "that some action be taken along the general lines of village planning and improvement, so that property values may be protected and that citizens do not have to resort to petitions and lawsuits to get the service they should have from their elected officials.

"I would like to take this opportunity to pledge to the citizens of Arlington Heights that when elected mayor I plan to have office hours in the municipal building where I would have the opportunity to meet the citizens of the community and receive their suggestions. I do not expect to make it necessary for anyone to see me on official village matters in my home or in my place of business.

"The population of Arlington Heights," Lattof pointed out, "is close to 12,000, and the municipal budget is nearing the half million mark. It is big business. There is a crying need for experienced business leadership that is imbued with civic consciousness.

"We believe that it is time for a change from haphazard growth to orderly growth — growth based on planning and vision. Property owners are entitled to know that their elected officials are not groping in the dark, but that they have some idea as to where they are going. That is why our party's platform calls for the endorsement of the Stanton and Rockwell Report — as a basis for future development. That does not cost any money. It will not add a penny to your taxes."

Where Lattof Stands

Statement made by Nicholas M. Lattof at Town Meeting, held March 30, 1953

I am happy to appear before you under the auspices of the Arlington Heights Community Council which I helped organize 10 years ago.

I am running for Mayor of Arlington Heights because I have been persuaded that there is a challenge and a real opportunity for effective service to my home town.

Here is where I stand on some Village affairs:

Orderly Growth

I am for orderly growth based on sound planning and vision. I believe that we should have some idea as to where we are going and work toward that end.

Village Code Written in 1953

I am for a Village Code written in 1953 so that property values may be protected and that petitions and costly law suits may be made unnecessary.

Maintain Residential Character

I am for maintaining and improving the residential character of our Village. I am against additional zoning for industry.

Solving Parking Problem

I am for immediate action on the parking problem. I believe that can be solved without the installation of parking meters.

Competition

I am for competition because I can do my best when I do have competition. I am for adequate and attractive stores in Arlington Heights erected where they belong, but not in your or my back yard.

Street Widening

I am against widening any street any where in the commercial area if that is to be done with your tax money.

Hospital

I shall continue to give my fullest support to the establishment of a hospital in our Northwest Area.

Extension of East Davis Street

I am against the extension of East Davis Street at Tibbits-Cameron because that would be impractical and too costly.

Sigwalt Street

I am against the extension of Sigwalt Street east of State Road. The Town Planners did not suggest it, nor do I.

Grade Separation at State Road

I am against our Village paying for an underpass or overpass at State Road and Northwest Highway. That would bankrupt our municipality.

Grade Separation at Dryden

I am against an underpass or an overpass at Dryden and Northwest Highway, not only because of the prohibitive cost, but because I believe that a residential street should not be transformed into an arterial thoroughfare.

Rehabilitation of Business District

I am for the improvement of our commercial area rather than see it become a slum area. The plan to remove three costly buildings on South Dunton to provide the largest parking area in the business district is an example of how that can be done by private capital without any cost to you the taxpayer.

Cooperation with Subdivisions

I am for giving full cooperation to subdivisions that have restrictions in their deeds to protect existing property values.

My public record of 17 years of service in my church and in the community militates against everything that is selfish or petty. No honest and fair minded person can question that.

If I am elected to serve you as Mayor, I will maintain office hours at the Village Hall—on Saturdays as well as on other days—to meet and discuss Village problems with interested citizens.

Arlington Heights has been very good to me. Were I your Mayor, I could not—I dare not give you less than my very best.

Politicians Invited To Answer Questions At Eastwood Meeting

Arlington Heights politicians will have an opportunity to display their talents at being concise Tuesday night at the Eastwood Community association to be held in the field house.

ALL CANDIDATES running in the April 21 village elections have been invited to appear before the group for the purpose of answering questions. So that no single candidate will monopolize the floor and so that all questions will be asked, the Eastwood program committee headed by Bill Weissmueller, 623 N. Beverly, will place a time limit on each answer.

"We don't want to run out of time before we run out of questions," Weissmueller told Paddock Publications. "We have requested that all questions be written and turned over to our committee before Monday. No questions will be accepted after that date.

"Here, again," he said, "we want no one monopolizing the floor. We feel that each person attending should have an equal opportunity to ask questions. One member of our committee will then serve as questioner, asking all the questions which have been submitted. None will be accepted from the floor at the meeting."

He explained that each candidate would be required to stay within a time limit in answering a question. The feeling of the committee is that this would tend to eliminate belabored explanations which have little specific bearing on the answers to questions. Chuck Bennett, 501 N. Dryden, will serve as questioner for the meeting.

BOTH THE Home Rule and the United Citizens parties have accepted the invitation to appear on the program which will begin exactly at 7:30 p.m. There will be no attempt to censor any candidate, provided he remains within his time limit.

"This," Weissmueller stressed, "is not intended to be a forum. We are not interested in any candidate's speaking abilities. Our group is interested in knowing what the future administration of this village, which could be any of the candidates before us, plans to do about our problems. We are not interested in personalities, but in what we can expect in the way of solutions."

Weissmueller would not speculate on the size of the crowd expected, but said that interest is extremely high in the Eastwood area. A conservative estimate, he claimed, could probably be put at an average of one person from each household in Eastwood, which, if true, would be the largest single group attending a political meeting here this year.

In addition to residents of Eastwood, the meeting will be open to the public, he said.

New Fiction: "Draw Near to Battle by Jere Wheelwright. The author has set his new novel in the glittering Parisian world of 1805 when Napoleon's power was approaching its zenith. He provides fine entertainment for the reader who likes his historical fiction with depth and spirit.

"A King Reluctant," by Vaughan Wilkins. Another superb historical romance based on actual fact but animated by the author's extraordinary imagination.

"The Bracelet," by Peatrice Page. This haunting novel is a double pilgrimage, two journeys in time, one contained within a single raw day in early Spring on the New England coast, the other covering sixty-odd years.

"Why Waterloo," by A. P. Herbert. An amazing novel of Napoleon's exile on Elba and of the miraculous escape that led to Waterloo.

"The Golden Season," by Oriana Atkinson. This is a love story, the story of gentle Freedom Ware, set against the lusty and crude and tremendously alive world which was early America.

In "This Heart, This Hunter," Hallie Southgate Burnett has created a novel of mature perception and candor.

"The money Song," by Arnold Shaw. A fascinating adventure of Tin Pan Alley.

"The Beckoning Waters," by Robert Garst. This exciting novel has as its setting a part of the United States which has rarely been used in historical fiction.

"Swan's Harbor," by Eleanor Mayo. A novel of events in a Maine village during a few weeks by one summer, a satisfying novel of Main character and integrity.

Settling The West Next 'American Trail' Topic

"On To Monerrey," is the title of chapter eight of the American Trial series, an educational radio program sponsored by the Ladies Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, in which the Arlington Heights VFW auxiliary is participating.

Students in Arlington Heights schools are listening to the program every Tuesday which is broadcast over station WBEZ-FM, from 10:45 to 11 a. m. The program is also rebroadcast every Saturday over WGN from 10:45 to 11 a. m.

Tuesday's theme deals with the opening of the West. Though Lewis and Clark had blazed a trail to the Oregon coast, in the 1830's the lands west of the Mississippi were still mostly uncharted and filled with danger for pioneers. The story tells how a soldier, John Fremont, and a frontiersman, Kit Carson, make explorations from Kansas City to California and open the way for settlement of the Rocky Mountain states. Later Fremont's explorations and victories in the Mexican War win for the United States land far west of the Rockies.

Personal Property Schedules Issued

The 1953 personal property assessment schedules for Cook county tax payers are now in the mails, County Assessor John S. Clark announced this week.

These schedules should be returned 10 days after receipt to local assessors.

According to state law, Clark pointed out, owners not returning schedules are subjject to a 50 percent penalty on their total assessment as determined by the assessor, thus making the tax bill one third higher.

". . . and how do I like my first year of teaching?"

"It's great!"

Tired after a hard day with the children, discontented because I didn't put a certain concept across, or joyed over their enthusiasm for a project, this reply suffices. A child's receptiveness is wonderful and a boon to the first year teacher.

There is never a dull moment and rarely a quiet one in first grade. Their ups and downs, joys and sorrows become partly ours. Many and varied are the experiences and I hope the following phrases will help convey my impressions of teaching:

"Is Santa Claus real?"—A detailed and lengthy description of "I Love Lucy"—The latest toothless wonder saying "The fairy brought me a dime for my tooth last night"—Birthday, the biggest day in their year—The burning desire to learn and the thrill of suddenly being able to read — Discussing with great intentness and enthusiasm the building of a model farm—Show and Tell featuring moth eaten Teddy Bears, Madame Alexander Walking Dolls, and the latest information on rockets to the moon—Sharing with the room the excitement and joys of having a new baby in the family—Bringing something of interest to school and the thrill of seeing a story being written about it for the whole room to read—The feeling of extreme importance even the slightest job can give—The look of sincerity and belief when they say the pledge of allegiance to the flag—The satisfaction of seeing them progress, working with each other, striving towards both individual and group goals—The sigh of relief when the 3:30 bell rings.

These are the things that make teaching great.

Arlington Varsity Debate Squad To Enter State Finals April 17-18

Arlington's varsity debate squad advanced to the finals of the Illinois State high school speech contest by placing second in the sectional debate tournament held in Rockford last Saturday.

At the end of three rounds of regulation tournament debating, Arilngton was in a five-way tie for first place, having won five debates and lost only one. In the final round, Arlington split its two debates to share second place honors with DeKalb and New Trier. East high school of Rockford took first place.

Bob Cummisford and Joe Dister, debating on the affirmative of the proposition "Resolved: That the North Atlantic Pact Nations Should Form a Federal Union," defeated Waukegan, Evanston, and Dixon, while losing to the same Evanston team. Their victory over Evanston came in the final round.

CAROL HEISS and Paul Gustafson, the negative team, defeated Grant, Rockford East, and Rock Falls in the preliminary rounds, and lost to the same Rockford East team in the final round. The Arlington victory over Rockford East was the first place winners' only loss. Other schools participating in the tournament included Niles, Sandwich, Freeport, Leyden.

The state finals will be held in Champaign Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18. There will be two rounds of debate Friday afternoon and one round Saturday morning. Coach Larry Jenness, who is currently working with some 25 freshmen and sophomores in a beginners intramural debate tournament, stated that his team's success and the forthcoming trip to Champaign should give the beginners plenty of incentive to work hard and try to make next year's squad. All four of this year's varsity debaters will graduate in June.

Garwood Leckband, who participated in the original oratory section at Rockford, finished fifth in a field of nine contestants. The Arlington play, "The Ugly Duckling," also finished fifth. Although Arlington was represented in only three of the ten divisions, the school finished eighth of the 26 represented.

Nine foreign representatives of a New York export firm will visit Littlefuse, Inc., of Des Plaines, for a full day of inspection Friday, April 3, according to Jack Hughes, 620 S. Pine ave., Arlington Heights. He is the vice-president in charge of sales.

Purpose of the visit, Hughes explained, is to show foreign representatives and distributors the best production and merchandising techniques developed by Littlefust in the manufacture and sale of its quality fuses.

"Observatour," as the project is called, is also designed to advance export trade possibilities, Hughes said, and to bridge the gap between foreign markets and modern American merchandising methods.

The visit to Littlefuse, Inc. is one of the major stops that the group will make in a trip covering 20 national industries in 18 cities throughout the U. S.

"The men we'll play host to will come from Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, Cuba, Mexico, Spain and Uruguay," Hughes said.

Wm. Kehe Jr., Returns To 'His First Love', Rural Route

William Kehe Jr. received word from Ike this week that he could leave his clerk's job in the Palatine post office and become a regular carrier for Palatine rural route 3. This route includes Wilke, Arlington Heights, and Dundee rds., where many of Bill's personal friends reside.

Bill says, "I am at heart a farmer; I like to see things grow; congratulate my rural patrons over fine crops and sympathize with them when the yield is low." Kehe is enough of a farmer that he can give expert advice on almost every problem a farmer runs up against.

This item appears in the Arlington Heights paper because Bill's route is in the normal Arlington area and he wants to relieve his mail patrons of any guess work as to the identity of their new mail man.

IT'S TIME TO REASON

SOONER OR LATER in many political campaigns, one side or the other begins the undesirable business of attacking character and personalities. They point to the selfish interest of this candidate or that in running for office for the purpose of personal gain – at the expense of the average citizen. Yet they never come out in print, naming names and making specific charges.

WE OF THE UNITED CITIZENS PARTY would like to introduce reason and judgment into this campaign. In a village the size of ours, we are all neighbors. We've lived together for a good many years – most of us – and will doubtless continue to do so.

THEREFORE, let us state that we have not thus far, nor will we between now and Election Day, publicly or privately question or impugn the character or the intentions of the candidates of the opposition party. Even though they continue the rather questionable tactics they have employed, we will not reply in kind, for we believe it detrimental to the future of all.

WE ASK THE CITIZENS OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS only this one thing: Examine the history and record of each of the candidates for office, and vote for the individual you confidently believe can perform the better service for you and your community.

FOR MAYOR .... Consider

☒ NICHOLAS M. LATTOF . . . . . and Albert W. Goedke

. . . a man who has headed or participated in more civic betterment projects than any man in the Village: Boy Scouts, Lions Club, Youth Center, Civilian Defense, Presbyterian Church Building Fund, School Board president for seven years . . . a man who has been successful in business . . . a man who has been urged by those who have worked with the present Mayor to accept the task of future development of our Village.

. . . a man who has served the Village to the best of his abilities for the past 20 years, first taking office when Arlington Heights was but a fraction of its present size . . . a man who should not be asked, in the opinion of men who have served with him, to cope with the growing volume and complexity of problems facing our Village.

FOR VILLAGE CLERK .... Consider

☒ FORREST F. DAVIS . . . . . and Carl H. Weinrich

. . . a man who has earned one of the finest reputations of any public servant in Arlington Heights history . . . a man who has served 12 years in the demanding job of Village Clerk and who knows the management end of our Village government better than any other individual in the city . . . a man whose abilities can be discarded only at terrific cost to the citizens of Arlington Heights.

. . . a pleasant business-man, who has not had the opportunity to study, or participate in the complicated and many-sided business of Village government even in the slightest degree . . . a man on whom it would be unfair and unjust to thrust the responsibilities of a job of major importance to the progress of Arlington Heights.

And Consider These Candidates

FOR VILLAGE TRUSTEES (names arranged in alphabetical order)

☒ CHARLES C. BARRETT

. . . a man who has shown evidence of his interest and ability in Village affairs by support of his neighborhood property-owners association . . . a man with long experience in real estate and property matters, and an officer of one of Chicago's leading mortgage houses . . . a man offering technical ability and experience in his field to our Village.

☒ WILLIAM A. GERBOSI

. . . a man who has risen to a top executive position in one of the largest and most successful organizations in the history of American food industry . . . a man who accepted an appointment to serve an unfinished term on the present Board, who served in a way that has earned the respect of all . . . a man who now sincerely suggests that the Village be given the opportunity to operate more efficiently with a new man in the Mayor's chair.

☒ RALPH L. HOFFIE

. . . a man who has served on the Village Board for six years, now being chairman of the finance committee and being given credit for important economies by fellow members of the Board of Trustees . . . a man who has lived in this Community for 20 years . . . another man who urges, on the basis of experience, the importance of a change in the position of Mayor in Arlington Heights.

Robert B. Bishop

. . . a likeable man with long experience in the advertising display business . . . a man who has worked well in the American Legion and in his church but who, until this year, has not engaged actively in civic affairs . . . a man who in a public meeting classified himself as an "amateur" in the affairs of Village government.

Richard Bronwell

. . . a man engaged in the Export trade as a profession . . . a resident of Arlington Heights for only four years. . . . a man who reported himself at a recent meeting as "an apathetic citizen until recently when certain things I didn't like came up"

Charles C. Rehfeldt

. . . an assistant division manager for one of America's largest mail order houses, active in the buying of cosmetics . . . a man who has lived in this community for 12 or 14 years, though not until now active in the affairs of Village government.

Student Teachers To Practice At Arlington Heights High School

Arlington Heights high school is among 105 Illinois schools selected by the University of Illinois College of Education as student training centers for 155 prospective teachers in their "professional semester."

Students who will be teaching full-time at Arlington Heights for six weeks from March 23 through May 8 are: Robert K. LeSeure, Mt. Carmel, Ill.; Fred Vaisvil, 4739 S. Honore ave., Chicago; Thomas Zawacki, 1638 W. 18th Pl., Chicago, all teaching social studies.

The "Professional Semester" as part of the training for prospective teachers was inaugurated at Illinois in 1951. Students spend six weeks in classes on the campus, then six weeks in full-time teaching under an experienced teacher, and finally put in four more weeks on the campus. Supervisors from the university work with the student and cooperating teacher during the six-week period in the field.

Vets Enjoy Visits Of Friendly Singing Club

A story telling about the work of the Friendly Singing club of Arlington Heights, which appeared in this paper last week omitted the following letter from the Veterans Administration, due to lack of space:

"The patients of Wards 23 to 28 wish to convey to you and to the Arlington Heights Friendly Singing club their thanks for the excellent musical entertainment conducted by the group February 26.

"The informal happy atmosphere created by your activity is an outstanding feature of your service here, and the patients are looking forward to your next visit.

"Again our thanks for your continued interest in the welfare of the patients."

The letter was signed by J. M. Bernat, chief, special services, Veterans Administration, Hines, Ill.

The club spends one day a month entertaining paraplegic veterans with songs and specialty acts. They also take gifts of cigarettes and playing cards.

List Cast For All School Play To Be Given May 8-9

The action of "Strange Boarders," the 1953 all-school play at Arlington Heights high school, takes place in a boarding house in New York City.

Cordelia Tuttle, played by Kay Bressner, is a warm hearted, scatter-brained woman in her thirties who tries to support her two foster daughters, Candy, played by Beth Smith, and Gloria, played by JoAnn Votova.

An understanding man, John Todd, played by Tom Harting, wants to marry Cordelia. Although she can't manage her affairs, she doesn't want to burden him with Candy and Gloria. She turns him down and begins to take in boarders.

TWO SCHOOL teachers and a deacon turn out to be crooks. They have arranged a rendezvous to split their loot from a bank robbery. The other two thieves "happen" to be hiding in the cellar of the rooming house.

Two other boarders are in the house: a professor who is trying to invent something that keeps blowing up in the back yard, and an old sea captain who teaches the girls geography and helps them pull in any fish on their line. Their fishing line hangs from the window because no one has enough money to buy any other dinner.

The things that happen to Cordelia and her family make a thoroughly enjoyable comedy which will be presented to the public on the evenings of May 8 and 9.

Other members of the cast are Herb Beyer as the professor; Vic Grimm as Lon Daggett; Bob Ryan as the captain; Carol Glaeser as Mrs. Hodge, an ardent reformer; and the crooks: Ray Miller as Smiley, Ronald Thon as Boston Benny, Beverly Johnson as Priscilla Haines, Lance Jahnke as Joey, Joan Meyer as Amity, and Dick Snyder as the Deacon.

The play was written by George Batson and Jack Kirkland.

High School To Have Business-Education Day For Women's Groups

The high school has announced that the week of May 11-15 will siding in the high school district to be guests at special tours and school programs.

The program will be held from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on as many days of the week as is necessary to accommodate the groups. Approximately 120 will be considered an ideal group for such a tour and meeting.

A program similar to that used for the businessmen of the area last fall, is being planned by Miss Hazel Beverly and Bruno Waara, co-chairman of the public relations committee of the high school staff. Invitations will be sent to Parent-Teacher groups, women's groups, mothers of sixth, seventh, and eighth graders, as well as mothers of present high school students.

Bits O' Business

Lead fell to 13 cents a pound last week, 6 cents under the old OPS ceiling . . . Heavy construction awards so far this year are ahead of 1952 by 39 per cent, in the face of government cutbacks . . . Oil companies rescinded a half-cent price rise in gasoline after a week's trial in the East . . . A Southern soft drink company will give the buyer of a carton of bottles 200 flower seeds—zinnias, cornflowers, marigolds or asters.

Jewel Sales Up

Jewel Tea Co., Inc. sales for the four weeks ended February 28 were $18,210,755, up $1,663,835 or 10.1% over the same weeks of 1952. This is the largest gain over a year ago recorded in more than a year and a half.

Retail sales for the first eight weeks of this year totaled $36,399,704, a gain of 9.2% over sales of $33,324,449 a year ago.

TOWNSHIP ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY, APRIL 7TH

The coming Township Election, having been devoid of any red-hot issues, many persons qualified to Vote therein, may not intend to go to the Polls next Tuesday. Such an attitude is a grave mistake.

If the representative form of Government under which we live is to operate and function efficiently and well, the Citizens thereof must exercise and use the greatest of all Civic privileges —the Vote.

Most people take a deep and intense interest in National Elections, but many are prone to ignore the local election in the mistaken belief that a local election is of little importance or small consequence to them. That is a serious error, since it is the Local Officials, their behavior, performance and official actions, which most vitally affect the welfare and interests of all persons residing or transacting their business and the affairs of everyday life in the local community.

Your present Township Officers have adherred to a definite policy of economy and sound business judgment and methods, which are well known to the informed public, and which policies, the Candidates on the PEOPLE'S PARTY Ticket have pledged themselves to continue.

The present audit completed by a certified public accountant shows a surplus in the Town Fund of $35,533.09, of which $20,000.00 is deposited in Savings Account and earning interest for the benefit of the Taxpayers in the Township.

In the judgment of your Township Officials it is deemed unnecessary to levy for the year 1953 any Tax for the Town Fund —no levy has been made, for the past four years, by your present Township Officials, for such purpose.

Your present Township Officials are entitled to an expression upon the part of the Voters as to their choice of Candidates.

If the members of the PEOPLE'S PARTY Ticket are elected it will signify that the general public approve the policies of your present Board. If they are defeated it will mean either the opposite or that the great majority of the Voters of Wheeling Township are indifferent to the administration of those financial affairs of their Community that so vitally affect their own interests.

Your present Township Officials, are Candidates for re-election on the PEOPLE'S PARTY Ticket and have associated with themselves on that ticket, as Candidates for the two vacancies in the Office of Constable, men chosen for their experience, integrity and qualifications for the office they seek.

Exercise your Privilege to Vote by casting your Ballot next Tuesday for your Township Officers; Vote to maintain and continue Good Government in your Township.

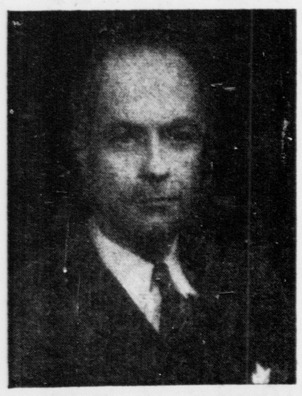
The polls will open at 6:00 o'clock A. M. and remain open until 5:00 o'clock P. M.

Standing upon their platform of efficiency, economy, and service in the administration of the affairs of the Township, and their past and present record of integrity and honesty and fair dealing in the business and affairs of the Township, the Candidates of the PEOPLE'S PARTY Ticket, individually and collectively, solicit your support of the entire ticket at the polls on Tuesday, April 7th, 1953.

YOUR TOWN BOARD the members of which are candidates for re-election, are making no 1953 tax levy for Town funds. Careful, efficient management by them is making this tax saving to all residents of Wheeling Township.

WILLIAM M. WEBER
Candidate for
Justice of the Peace

CARL M. BEHRENS, JR.
Candidate for
Justice of the Peace



W. EDWARD FRITZ
Candidate for
Justice of the Peace

HARVEY M. ADAMS
Candidate for
Justice of the Peace

The Justices of the Peace

The office of Justice of the Peace is far more important to the interest of the members of the Community than is generally known since the individual Justices not only preside as Judges of the Law and Evidence in cases involving infractions of Laws and disputes pertaining to civil matters, but the 5 Justices elected to their office are required by Law to constitute, in conjunction with the Township Supervisor and Clerk, a Board of Auditors and to examine and pass upon all Township bills and expenditures.

Every resident and taxpayer in Wheeling Township hopes that he or she will have no necessity to appear as a party Plaintiff or Defendant in the Justice Court, but should the occasion arise so to do—when we are before THE JUDGE we earnestly wish the man upon the bench to be one in whom we can have confidence, a man of calm, judicial temperament, with mature judgment and without bias or prejudices.

The men on our ticket as candidates for this Office are such men, carefully chosen for their qualifications and their past records of business knowledge, experience and integrity.

JUDGES WILLIAM M. WEBER, CARL M. BEHRENS, W. E. FRITZ, HARVEY M. ADAMS & WILLIAM F. LAURANCE have all served the people of WHEELING TOWNSHIP in this office for the past four years; and have demonstrated their ability and fitness to ably and well perform the duties and functions of the office.

JUDGE WILLIAM M. WEBER needs no introduction to the Citizens of Wheeling Township. He has appeared before the public many times and served the people of the Community in public offices of trust for many years. A resident of Arlington Heights and lifelong resident of the Township; his record of service in office and positions of trust and responsibility in Township and Village affairs is outstanding and his efforts on the part of the people of his community have been appreciated as is evidenced by the overwhelming votes of confidence he has received in past elections. Judge Weber has and possesses all of the qualifications for the office to which he seeks re-election.

JUDGE CARL M. BEHRENS is completing his first 4 year term in the office of Justice of the Peace. While comparatively young in years, "Carl" possesses a record of service to the public and his Country of which any citizen could be proud. Carl resides on Kichhoff Road in the unincorporated area of the Township. In his present office, to which he seeks re-election Carl has ably and capably performed all of the duties and obligations. Available to the Township Citizens from all areas and at all hours.

JUDGE W. E. FRITZ is a long time resident of Arlington Heights and should need no introduction to the citizens and voters of Wheeling Township. A lawyer for many years and with an established office and practice in Arlington Heights, he has served his Community ably and well, in civic affairs and in the office he holds. Judge Fritz has and possesses all of the qualifications required or desirable and considerable experience as well in the office of Justice of the Peace.

WILLIAM F. LAURANCE
Candidate for
Justice of the Peace

GILBERT J. KLEHM
Candidate for Supervisor

The Supervisorship

The office of Supervisor for the Township is an eminently important one.

It is his duty to handle and administer the matter of Township Relief. He is Treasurer of the Road and Bridge Fund; Treasurer of the Town Fund and Chairman of the Township Board of Health. He is "on call" at any hour, day and night; in time of financial distress, illness and death, your Township Supervisor is the friend and servant of the dependent families of your Community.

GILBERT J. KLEHM, your present Supervisor, with the wholehearted support of the present Board, has made such an enviable record in that Office for able, efficient and economical service that his re-election, without opposition, was assured.

JUDGE HARVEY M. ADAMS has resided in Arlington Heights for the past 17 years—a Lawyer for over 40 years and engaged in the active practice of his profession in the Federal, State, Municipal, City and Justice Courts during all of that time, with offices in the City of Chicago and Arlington Heights, and with the knowledge and experience possessed, in the office of Justice of the Peace, during the past 12 years. He possesses to a marked degree all of the essential qualifications for the office he now holds and to which he seeks re-election.

JUDGE WILLIAM F. LAURANCE resides in the Village of Wheeling—he is and has been employed there by the Soo line Railroad as Station Agent for many years and while he may not be too well known to the residents of the Arlington Heights area, in Wheeling and the surrounding country area, "Bill," as he is affectionately known to most everyone, has a host of friends and is held in high esteem for the capable and efficient manner in which he handles and performs the duties and responsibilities of his office and his Court. His friendly approach, charm and personality and his courteous and patient hearings afforded litigants appearing before him in his Court have won him much praise.

Don't Be Mislead

Your elected Township Justices and Constables serve ALL the Citizens, unincorporated areas equally with the incorporated ones.

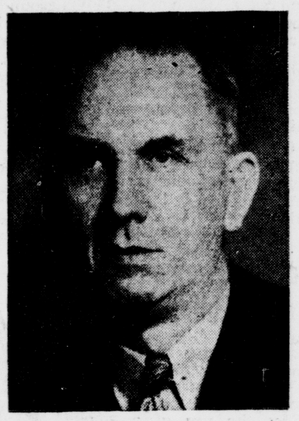
The Town Clerk

The Town Clerk is the custodian of the Township Records, Books and papers. It is the duty of this officer to record all proceedings of every Town Meeting, and all Orders and directions, by-laws, and rules and regulations made by any Town Meeting, and to annually certify to the County Clerk the amount of taxes required to be raised for all Town purposes.

DOROTHY HELM HAUFF has served the Township of Wheeling as Clerk for the past four years. Her ability, courtesy and efficient service to the Citizenry of the Township are so outstanding that her election to the office has not been opposed.

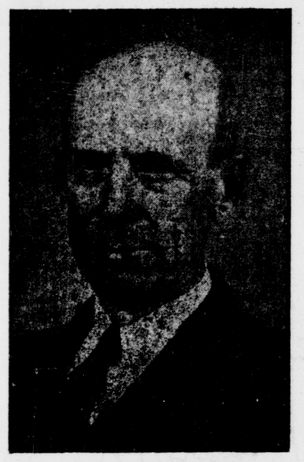


THEODOR STUDTMANN
Candidate for Assessor

The Assessor

THEODOR STUDTMANN has served the public of our Community fairly and equitably in this office for a number of years and his cheerful and patient consideration to all has won him a host of friends.

Mr. Studtmann reiterates his previous pledge "to conduct my office in the interest of the Taxpayers—to give the highest type of service—a service which is yours to command at all times." He has kept that pledge so well that he stands before the people unopposed.



WILLIAM ANNEN
Candidate for Collector

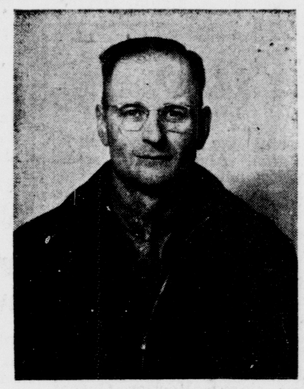
The Tax Collector

"TAXES" is usually a disagreeable subject matter of conversation; but nevertheless, "taxes" are an absolute necessity for the good of the Community as a whole, since it is from Taxation that funds are derived with which to meet and pay for the relief of the distressed people of a Community, the maintenance of our roads, preservation of Peace and protection of property, administration of the business affairs of our Government, and many other important public activities.

WILLIAM ANNEN has, for many years past, capably and efficiently served the Township of Wheeling as its Collector. His unfailing courtesy in that office has won the friendship of all with whom he has come into contact. He is possessed in a marked degree with the knowledge, experience and ability to capably serve the Community as its Tax Collector.

ALBERT A. SCHOCK has been a resident of Mt. Prospect for eight years and resides at 9 North Wille Street with his wife and three children. At present he is employed as Building Commissioner for the village which office he has held for the past three years. He has also had eight years active police duty as a qualification.

The Candidates whose names appear under the PEOPLE'S PARTY column take this means of acquainting the Voters with some of the duties pertaining to the various offices of the Township, and a brief statement of the qualifications of the candidates upon the PEOPLE'S PARTY ticket to perform them:



BARNIE RUNGE
Candidate for Highway Commissioner

The Highway Commissioner

It is the duty of the Highway Commissioner to maintain and keep in good repair the Township Roads, Bridges and Culverts.

BARNIE RUNGE is the PEOPLE'S PARTY candidate for this office. He is a lifetime resident of Wheeling Township and has served the residents in the maintenance of its roads and bridges for a period of more than twenty years past. He is thoroughly acquainted with every inch of road in the Township and is fully experienced in the operation and care of all machinery and equipment used in connection with road and bridge maintenance.

His ECONOMICAL administration of his office, scrupulous attention to the duties imposed upon him and efficient service rendered assure his re-election without any opposition.

The Township Constables

The Constables of the Township are subject to call for the preservation of the Peace of the Community, as well as being Process Servers.

The men chosen upon the PEOPLE'S PARTY ticket for that office have been carefully selected to most efficiently render the service they may be called upon to perform as Constables.

CARL H. SKOOG, FRED J. HINZ and JOSEPH M. REMSING have served the Township of Wheeling ably and efficiently in the office of Constable over a period of years.

Chief Skoog and Constable Hinz are both residents of Arlington Heights; Constable Remsing resides in Forest River; ALBERT A. SCHOCK is a resident of Mt. Prospect; ARTHUR MOLDENHAUER resides in the Village of Wheeling.

All of these men possess high character and intelligence and other desired qualifications to efficiently perform the duties of the office of CONSTABLE.

As the Township campaign draws to a close it is a source of great satisfaction to us that this has been, in the main, a clean campaign devoid of personalities; we trust that the same spirit of decency and fair play will continue until the last vote is counted.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

"The Day of Resurrection!
Earth, tell it out abroad."

Comes again the joyous day of Easter. The lilies are in bloom, the spring bonnets await their wearers. Every fat robin on the greening grass struts as though he knows himself to be one of Earth's heralds of the day of resurrection.

We sometimes err in our joyous approach to Easter, forgetting or taking too casually, that it is "the third day." Good Friday as bitter experience does not make sufficient impression on us.

The day of resurrection follows the day of crucifixion, "the three sad days have quickly sped." The day of dramatic release from sin, death and the grave follows the day when even the Savior bowed to the dictate of sin, death and the grave.

In a world that has the feeling of having spent the last seven or ten years in a semi-permanent Good Friday, we need this reassurance. Whenever we are serious, it seems that we have spent much of our time in mourning or lamenting.

The day of joy follows the day of sorrow. Sometimes we ask too much of joy. We ask to dwell always in the brightness of noonday. We forget that most of the sweet words of comfort in scripture are declared to those in darkness.

"Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for Thou are with me." "If I make my bed in Hell, Thou art there . . . Whither shall I flee from Thy Spirit?"

Those who see and recognize the day of gladness are those who have been faithful through the day of sorrow and testing.

"Jesus Christ is Risen today.
Allelujah!
Our triumphant holy day.
Allelujah."

'Singing Hoosiers' To Entertain At Arlington High School Assembly

Indiana University's "Singing Hoosiers," a male chorus of approximately 35 voices, plus a group of feminine entertainers, directed by George F. Krueger, will be in Arlington Heights Wednesday, April 15, for a high school assembly program at 2 p. m.

LeRoy J. Knoeppel, superintendent of the Township high school district, is in charge of the program.

Opening the program will be a musical America attraction featuring music of different nationalities and from various walks of life.

Participating in this feature will be the "Singing Hoosiers," the six-footers, Hoosier Queens, a dancer, several soloists and a mixed quartet.

Soloists and groups of entertainers will make up the second part of the program, including ballet dancer, juggler, ballad singer, Hoosier Queens, baritone soloist and a girl soloist.

A music "pot-pourri" consisting of Sigmund Romberg's "Stouthearted Men," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," arranged by Roy Ringwald; "You'll Never Walk Alone," by Richard Rogers, and "Great Day," arranged by Claire Nunn, Indiana University student, will close the program.

Deadline Nears For Scout Jamboree Signup

The deadline is drawing near for boy scouts to sign up for the national jamboree at the Irvine Ranch near Santa Ana, Calif., July 17-23. Just a few reservations remain open and the scout committees in charge of the jamboree arrangements from this area urge boys to act immediately if they want to get in on the experience of their lives.

The train trip to California and back on a scout special in itself is a never-to-be-forgotten attraction. There will be stops and side trips at Glacier Park, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and Grand Canyon. And the ten days at the jamboree will put the scouts in touch with 50,000 fellow scouts from all over the United States. They will build a city overnight on 30,000 acres of beautiful ranch land, complete with every modern utility. Near enough to the ocean for the boys to make frequent trips; buses have been scheduled to carry 25,000 boys a day back and forth for a swim.

Clyde V. Anderson, district commissioner in Skokie valley, will serve as jamboree scoutmaster. Mr. Anderson has had a long experience in scouting. One of his assistants will be Mathew Borske, assistant scoutmaster of troop 33 in East Maine. The other assistant will be Rick Hull, an Illinois student and Eagle scout. Conrad K. Spens, scoutmaster of troop 11, sponsored by St. Mary church in Park Ridge, will also be going as a jamboree leader with scouts from Northwest suburban council if enough sign up to need his leadership; otherwise he will serve on the sectional staff, as will Jack Dawson, advisor of troop 2, sponsored by Community church.

Scout executive Huntington will serve as chief inspector on the sectional staff and will be at the jamboree the full time it is in session.

Barrington Firemen Save Two Children

Prompt response of the Barrington fire department to a call Friday morning saved two children from possible serious burns. Aided by the use of a smoke ejector, two firemen, village trustee David Capulli and Earl Etters, forced their way into a smoke-filled basement at 329 E. Liberty street and carried two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Wolthausen to safety.

The call to the Wolthausen residence came about 9:30 a. m. The firemen raced hurriedly to the site, laid hoses around the building and set the gasoline engine-driven smoke ejector at the basement window to clear the space of the stifling smoke. They found the two children beside a burning bed, and Mrs. Wolthausen, their mother, frantic in fear of what to do.

Capulli and Etters carried the children, choking from smoke, to an upstairs apartment, while other firemen hauled the bedding and the mattress to the outdoors where the flames were then doused with water.

Hazardous; dangerous; risky "It was a hazardous undertaking."

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Monday's town meeting for voters of Arlington Heights and Wheeling township proved the ideal way to "meet the candidates" for the coming elections. The Community council sponsored the affair which was held at the high school.

Candidates in the village election came in for a lion's share of the attention, of course, but those running for township office, high school and grade school boards, the library board and the park district were also well received.

The Community council sponsored the town meeting to give citizens of Wheeling township a better knowledge of the candidates and issues, to give them a better basis for making their decision about whom to vote for.

New Landmark

There's a new landmark on N. Dunton st. now—it's the steeple of the new sanctuary of the First Presbyterian church. The steeple was raised last week after several postponements due to the crane breaking down, frantic measurements to see if Public Service company wires would be disturbed (they wouldn't) and and rain on the originally scheduled day.

The audience who watched the steeple hoisted 110 feet off the ground included several classes of students from the North school, interested townspeople and, of course, the church staff.

New Members

The period of wondering whether they made the National Honor society is over for the boys and girls at Arlington high—40 new members, including 14 juniors, were initiated and honored at tea recently.

Honor society members are chosen on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership and service. Neil Barr is this year's president of the society.

Holy Week

Traditional Palm Sunday services, usually with confirmands uniting with their churches, began Holy Week programs in Arlington Heights. St. John Evangelical and Reformed and St. Peter and Faith Lutheran churches confirmed their young people's classes Sunday and the First Presbyterian church received into membership those of the communicants' class. A class of adult members will be received tonight, Thursday, at Maundy Thursday communion service at the Presbyterian church. The Methodist church received new members Palm Sunday.

A communion service is a traditional part of Maundy Thursday, and most local churches will hold such a service tonight. On Good Friday the First Methodist, First Presbyterian and St. John Evangelical and Reformed churches will again join together for a union service, this year at the Methodist church. The pastor of Hemenway Methodist church, Evanston, will speak.

Airlines Assume Lead Over Ships In Ocean Travel

More international travelers get a look at America's skyline from 10,000 feet in the air than see it from the decks of the world's passenger ocean liners.

In the short 25years since Clarence Chamberlin piloted the first passenger-carrying aircraft across the Atlantic, the airline industry has forged strongly ahead of the travel as the leading carrier of trans-oceanic passengers.

And the bulk of all international air trade, originating or terminating in the U. S. is carried by the 234-plane overseas air fleet of U. S. flag lines.

Last year, according to the U. S. Customs Bureau, more than 1,300,000 passengers arrived at or departed from U. S. airports on international trips via commercial airlines. This reflects an increase of almost 150,000 over the previous year — and is over 300,000 more than were carried by the steamship lines.

Flowers may beckon towards us, but they speak toward heaven and God.

—Henry Ward Beecher.

ICE CAPADES GORGEOUS COSTUMES SET NEW HIGH

Backstage at Ice Capades, Wardrobe Mistress Gladys Algiers attracts an interested group of Ice Ca-pets as she repairs costumes on her Phoenix sewing machine. Above, left to right, are Jacqueline duBief, Janet Collins and Sonya Kaye. Seated at left, Ginny Baxter. This year's Ice Capades costumes are the creations of Celine Faur.

ICE Capades of 1953 at the Chicago Arena through April 8 is delighting the eyes of many thousands with the costume creations of one of the world's foremost dress and costume experts. For this year's ice show marks Celine Faur's most noteworthy efforts in ice show costume creations.

Tailleuse to some of the world's most important women including stage and screen stars of both continents, Celine Faur has signed with Producer John H. Harris for her exclusive services for the famous Ice Capades.

Chief of the feminine costume department of Ice Capades, Celine Faur has more than 75 workers under her supervision. These include milliners, beaders, embroiderers, cutters, fitters, finishers, drapers and operators.

Chief wardrobe mistress on the road with the show is Gladys Algiers, whose chief job is to keep these costumes in fine shape for the 48-week tour. Her prize possession is her new Phoenix sewing machine, which monograms, makes buttonholes, sews on buttons and snaps, blind stitches, darns and mends, zig zag stitches, and performs other duties. "My toughest job," laughs Gladys, "is keeping the girls of the show away from monopolizing the machine. They all love it."

More than $100,000, incidentally, was spent on the gorgeous finale number of Ice Capades. In it are the most expensive costumes ever displayed in the history of ice shows, including beautifully designed evening gowns complete with gorgeous fur coats.

University Of Illinois Research Pays Off To State To Tune Of Millions

Everyone knows the University of Illinois provides instruction for thousands of young people — but few realize that, over and above teaching, the work of the university is putting many millions of dollars into the pockets of the citizens of the state and nation each year. These cash returns are the applied results of research work the university carries forward constantly. For instance:

As a direct result of university work started a third of a century ago, the state of Illinois raised an estimated 85,000,000 bushels of soybeans last fall. The average price was $2.90. In other words, the farmers of Illinois are richer by approximately a quarter of a billion dollars from this one crop alone — thanks to the university.

MONEY SAVED in more economical heating of homes by applying facts proved by the university amounts to more than $100 million yearly.

The university pointed the way in legume inoculation which on Illinois cultivated acreage extracts some $40 million of nitrogen from the air annually.

The university developed the blueprint for synthetic rubber as a result of its discoveries in 1925; during the war 50 different kinds of such rubber were produced on the campus.

University work with wrought steel wheels used on American railroads for Diesels, passenger cars, and about 25% of the freight cars, has reduced from 20 annually to two annually those known as "violent failures" — the type which could and often do cause serious accidents.

THE ILLINOIS system of soil fertility which insures increased rather than diminishing yields, and the use of limestone to increase production, are worth $50 million annually to the farms of the state.

The university was the first to discover the reason for boiler embrittlement, and later a remedy, worth $10 million yearly to the Chicago industrial area alone.

Early in the war the university was able to tell the Navy in 90 days what it would have taken 50 years to learn on the high seas — the dependable comparison in the use of rivets vs. welding in armor plates. (Welding proved better, faster, cheaper, lighter).

MANY OTHER university findings cannot be measured in dollars and cents. The first sound-on-film motion pictures; the forerunner of the "electric eye"; the work for thirty years in determining the breaking points of iron, steel and other metals; the establishment of performance characteristics of concrete, railway rails, car wheels, building beams; these and scores of others touching the daily lives of almost every person, came from the University of Illinois.

The latest of the electronic brains are the two built by the university — one of which is now working for the army, the other for the university. Its memory capacity is twice as great as that of any other similar high speed computer with cathode ray memory tubes.

It can store away 1024 numbers and recall any one in 36-millionth of a second. It can do 10,000 additions a second. It can multiply a pair of 12 digit numbers — like 54975581-3887 x 275319346624 a thousand times a second.

In five hours it can do calculations that would take 50 years — a working lifetime for a man using an ordinary electric adding machine. In two weeks it can solve a problem which would take a human more than a thousand years.

For all of its teaching and for all of its research work, the university cost each citizen of Illinois last year $4.16. This is slightly more than a cigarette a day.

Libertyville OKs 29 Homes, Providing —

Libertyville village trustees said that building permits would be granted for 29 homes on Sayre ave., but several stumbling blocks were placed in the path of the housing project.

First of all, Contractor Arnold Pederson of Deerfield must either install a blacktop or concrete road, according to village law. He will not be permitted to lay a gravel road as he had intended.

Also, a lot upon which a home is to be erected must be within 50 feet of sewer and water facilities, and must adjoin a paved street which extends to another street or a highway.

Oversized Furnace A Waste Of Heat And Fuel

Make certain the heating system purchased for the home is correctly sized to meet the heating requirements of the house.

In the past years it was considered good practice to install a furnace "plenty big enough" in order to make up for any deficiencies in the design of the heating system or heat leaks in the building. The oversized heater was supposed to supply "extra power" to keep the building warm anyhow.

Research by the warm air heating industry has proved this theory wrong. An oversized heating unit wastes fuel; an undersized one will not stand up under the constant high temperature heating demands made of it. For efficiency, economy, and comfort the heating system must be accurately sized, properly designed and correctly installed.

Basic requirement for the determination of the correct size of the warm air furnace and the heat distribution system is an accurate determination of the heat loss of the structure. Heat within a house is lost to the outside through the walls, glass, and around the doors and windows. Home owners should realize, therefore, that the heating job of the system is to put heat in a house at the same rate as it is lost to the outside.

An oversized furnace will put more heat into the house than is lost to the outside. The result will be overheating, discomfort to the occupants, and waste of fuel. An undersized furnace will be required to operate at temperatures over its design rating in order to keep up with the heating demands of the house. It will burn out within a few years.

To assure himself that his warm air heating system will provide himself and his family with the comfort he desires the home owner should specify his system be sized in accordance with "Manual 3—How to Figure Heat Losses," published by the national warm air heating and air conditioning association and installed in accordance with the design and installation manuals of the association.

Golves Keep Shape

Some glove materials will shrink or change shape when being dried if they are washed in the usual manner with soap and water. However, if the gloves are of the right size, this shrinking can be prevented by inserting ordinary clothespins in the fingers.

Daisy Bosch To Revive Talent Teens; Plan Auditions; Need MC, Pianist

Anyone who has talent, who would like to work with a group to entertain hospitalized veterans, residents of homes for the aged or orphans, are invited to the auditions being held by Mrs. Daisy Bosch, 114 Brighton place, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Bosch worked with a group of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines youngsters under the name of the Des-Mount-Arl Talent Teens for several years. The group began as a result of a series of amateur shows put on by Mrs. Bosch at the Arlington Theatre. The many participants wanted to continue on as an entertainment group and Mrs. Bosch served as the director.

THE GROUP was active for three years, entertaining at veterans hospitals, old folks homes and orphans' homes. They also presented a benefit show to help finance a trip to veterans' hospitals down state. Several local organizations donated money to help finance the trip. The Teens also entertained at several carnivals in the area.

The Teens put in long hours and hard work to make their shows good. In return they learned stage presence, poise, and gained valuable experience. Many have won awards in various contests they have entered in school and on television. Nearly everyone of the original Talent Teens appeared on television amateur shows, several of whom won prizes for their efforts.

During the past two years the Teens have not been active due to various reasons, but Mrs. Bosch feels she can now resume the direction of the troop. All former members are invited to the auditions as well as anyone else living in the Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Wheeling, Palatine and Des Plaines areas. Interested persons who can sing, dance, play an instrument, do magic, pantomime, or what have you, are asked to fill out the audition blank below and mail it to Mrs. Bosch, or call her at CLearbrook 3-7705. When the application is received she will notify the applicant as to the date of his or her audition. No age limit has been set.

A PIANIST, preferably an adult who has plenty of time to work with the teens, is also needed. No payment will be made for this service but it will be time well spent for a worthy cause. Every show needs a master of ceremonies and any adult able to fill this bill should contact Mrs. Bosch.

"Being a member of the Talent Teens means lots of hard work and giving up time one might want to spend in other activities," says Mrs. Bosch. "On the other hand the Talent Teens receive valuable experience and help bring cheer to hundreds of persons who would not otherwise get this type of entertainment."

Three Resign, Hire Two At Arlington High School

The board of education, District 214, Arlington Heights high school, at its meeting March 23, appointed two new teachers for the school year 1953-54. Miss Leotta Hampton of Brookings, S. D., will teach social studies and have charge of declamation. Miss Martha Frey will teach in the English and social studies departments. Both Miss Hampton and Miss Frey are experienced teachers and will be added to the staff to accommodate the extra 120 students that will enroll in the high school next year.

The board accepted the resignations of three instructors, Mrs. Irmgard Graham, librarian; Ray DeGreeff, physical education and athletics; and Gene Bell, on leave of absence. It will be necessary for the board to employ an additional five teachers for the next school year to take care of increased enrollments.

Lutheran Home Residents Celebrate Birthdays

The Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, held its first quarterly birthday party of 1953 last Friday. Twenty-two residents were honored guests at the party which was distinquished by the singing of gay songs and lots of fun and laughter.

Special guests were Mrs. Wilhelmina Linnemann, age 91, and Frank Weyrauch, also 91, the oldest residents in age; and Robert Schmeltzer, the baby of the Home's family, who was 60 years old. Henry Janz, who celebrated a birthday January 16, enjoys the distinction of 16 years residence in the Home and honored the guests at the party by singing a number of spring songs in German. The newest resident of the Home, Herman Lampe, was also a birthday guest.

The Lutheran Sewing Ladies are well into a new year of sewing fancy goods for the Home's annual festival. They meet every Wednesday afternoon to work on the many articles of needlework, aprons, crocheting, knitting, quilting, and doll clothes, etc. The co-chairmen of this group are: Mrs. George Schimming, Mrs. Martha Kranz, in charge of aprons, and Mrs. William Lackner, in charge of quilting. The sewing ladies anticipate a highly successful project in 1953.

The Home's annual meeting will be held April 10 at the Palmer House. Messiah Lutheran church of Chicago's northwest side will be welcomed as a new member of the corporation. (B4

Youth Center Elects Officers

The annual election of the Arlington Heights Youth Center officers was held recently, resulting in a fine group of teenagers being selected to lead the Center's activities for the coming season.

Officers are: Roger Thomas, president; Denny Maher, vice-president; Myra Landmeier, secretary and Suzanne Franke, treasurer.

The Youth Center is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Lions club and is located in the field house. It is open every Wednesday, Friday and Saturday night, except when a high school event open to all students is held on one of those nights.

THIS YEAR the Center will close about the middle of April, which is earlier than usual, to allow the park board to redecorate and prepare the quarters for the coming swimming season.

Officers and the directors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, are planning to spend the remainder of the school year making plans for the Youth Center's opening in September. This group will attack as its first project the purchasing of new furniture for the lounge room and tables and chairs to be used in the dance room. The game room is slated to receive new ping pong tables and a variety of new and interesting table games. New furnishings are being planned for the girls' lounge, including coat racks, some of which will also be placed in the game room.

The program presented by the Youth Center will also come under discussion. An "opening party" in September will be planned, as will changes and improvements in the ever popular Hallowe'en party and a bigger and better New Year's Eve affair. In addition it is hoped that a booklet, which will explain the operation of the Youth Center to incoming freshmen and to parents, will be written and prepared for distribution next September.

FUNDS FOR these projects and any other activities planned by the students, come from the members' own treasury, which is accumulated from membership fees of $1.50 per year, and any profit made from the sale of soft drinks and ice cream at the snack bar.

At present the Center has more than 650 members. The larger Youth Center fund, under the jurisdiction of the Lions club, is used for such items as salaries and improvements which the students' treasury is unable to cover.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

Both Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Nygren concur in the choice of their favorite dinner, and it is this dinner menu plus two excellent recipes which are being featured today.

They concur, as well, in their mutual interest in the Village Theatre, and both will play supporting leads (and supply the romantic interest) in the Theatre's next production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," to be presented April 17 and 18 at the Arlington Heights high school.

The Nygrens live on Rand rd., have an Arlington Heights mailing address, but are "betwixt and between" three towns, and thus divide their activities among Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Palatine.

Their son, Bruce, who is five years old and in kindergarten, inspires a special interest for them in the Wilson school. Mrs. Nygren is a member of the PTA, while Mr. Nygren is a cubmaster, and is at present a candidate for the Wilson school board. Both are active in the Mount Prospect Episcopal church, and Mrs. Nygren is a member of the Palatine Woman's club.

The dinner which they both favor starts out with a shrimp cocktail. This is followed by a rare rib roast of beef, with cheese au gratin potatose and green peas with mushrooms as the vegetables.

Homemade ice box rolls, relishes and a Caesar salad accompany the main course. The salad is made by combining salad greens with anchovies, croutons and an oil and garlic dressing. Raw egg yolks are added last, in the final tossing of the salad.

The dinner is completed with a delicious lemon meringue pie and coffee.

Both the ice box rolls and lemon meringue pie are made from family recipes which Mrs. Nygren received from her aunt. The yeast rolls are simple to make, are clover leaf in shape and light in texture. The lemon meringue pie is the "piece de resistance" of this tempting meal.

Ice Box Rolls

½ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup boiling water
1 egg beaten
1 cake yeast
½ cup cold water
3 cups flour, measured before sifting

Let yeast stand in cold water for five minutes.

Pour boiling water over sugar, salt and shortening. Add egg.

Stir yeast and water into above mixture. Add flour, beating as you add.

Let stand in refrigerator at least four hours, or preferably overnight.

Mold into rolls by putting three balls (about the size of walnuts) into greased and floured muffin tins to make clover leaf rolls.

Let rise for two or three hours in a warm place. Bake for 10 or 12 minutes in a 425 degree oven.

Lemon Meringue Pie

1 cup sugar
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons flour
3 egg yolks
4½ tablespoons lemon juice
Grated rind of two lemons
1 teaspoon butter

Mix cornstarch, flour and sugar in top of double boiler. Add boiling water, stirring constantly. Cook two minutes in double boiler.

Beat egg yolks; add grated rind, butter and lemon juice. Over this, slowly pour mixture from double boiler. Mix together.

Pour back into double boiler and cook until medium-thick. Let cool.

Pour into cooled baked pie shell. Add meringue and bake 15 minutes in a 300 degree oven. Makes a 9-inch pie.

The program for the April 9 meeting of the St. James Mothers' club at the Arlington Hts. field house will be provided by the Delores Eiler dance studio.

Richard Adams Takes Lee MacMahon As Bride

Ten attendants and two flower girls preceded Miss Lee MacMahon down the aisle of St. James Lutheran church, Detroit, Mich., March 28 when she became the bride of Richard M. Adams.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Porter MacMahon of Detroit, Mich. Mr. Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Merton Adams of Mount Prospect.

The bridal gown was styled with an off-shoulder white lace bodice, long sleeves coming to points and a frothy tulle skirt over satin. A tiny lace apron distinguished the front of the skirt. A fingertip length veil fell from a heart-shaped headpiece. The bride carried a small bouquet of white stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. W. H. Church of New Orleans, sister of the bride, and Mrs. William C. Portman of Cincinnati served as matrons of honor. Miss Joan Hadley was maid of honor, and Miss Penny Kemp, Miss Kerry Kirn, Miss Charlene Lebold, Miss Barbara Duke and Miss Jinna de Conningh, both of New York City, Mrs. C. Law McCabe of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Horace C. Ford were the bridesmaids.

All the attendants were desssed identically in waltz-length daffodil yellow lace gowns, fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves a. bouffant skirts and tiny yellow straw bonnets. Short white gloves and yellow shoes completed their ensembles, and they carried white daisies with yellow centers.

Patsy and Lee Church, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls. They wore white organdy frocks with wide yellow sashes. White straw bonnets trimmed in yellow formed their headpieces. They carried small white baskets filled with yellow daisies.

William Gilbreath was best man. Ushers were Caulk MacMahon, Konrad Matthaie, Richard Groves of Ann Arbor, Mich., Charles Murray, Gerald Hughes, Richard Boyle of Chicago, John Tompkins of Philadelphia, Stephen Hosmer and Horace C. Ford.

A reception at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle followed the ceremony.

Both mothers wore waltz length gowns. Mrs. MacMahon chose navy taffeta and wore a white iris corsage. Mrs. Adams was dressed in aqua with a white orchid corsage.

The couple honeymooned in Potawatomi, Ind. Following the trip the newlyweds will go to Chicago where they plan to live. The groom is attending law school at the University of Chicago.

Presenting The Younger Generation

Two Little Indians

These little Indians are a bit on the "wee" side now, but it won't be long before they are whooping up a war chant! They are Terry and David Raupp, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Raupp of 119 S. Evergreen, Arlington Hts.

Terry, pictured first, is 8 months old and has brown eyes and brown hair. He is developing the art of crawling and is progressing nicely. David, the 2 year old, has blond hair and blue eyes. Besides playing with Terry, David especially is fond of toy cars.

Grandparents of the boys are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hertel and Al Raupp of Buffalo Grove.

Grandma's Girl

This sweet expression belongs to brown-haired, brown-eyed Karen Ann Staat. She is the 2 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Staat of Algonquin rd., Arlington Heights.

Having her Grandma and Grandpa Goebbert, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goebbert, right next door gives Karen constant playmates and devoted ones! She is fascinated with Grandma's dog and loves to spend time playing with him. Karen's latest achievement is learning to talk.

Mrs. Mratha Staat of Des Plaines is the paternal grandmother.

Bright Smiles

A pair of bright smiles from the brother and sister next in line! They are Donna Mae and Norman Lohse, children of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lohse of 57 S. Brockway, Palatine.

"The personalities of Donna Mae and Norman are quite different," stated Mrs. Lohse when describing her youngsters. Donna Mae is a bit on the timid side, and more quiet then her brother. She enjoys being outside and playing with her doll buggy. Donna Mae is 16 months old and has light brown hair and brown eyes.

Norman is a blond and blue-eyed 3 year old. He is an easy-going child, very active and raring to go at 5:30 in the morning, stated his mother.

DEFENSE RAGGED, NEED MORE POWER FOR CARDINAL NINE

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

WITH APRIL 1 ARRIVING, the major sports event in this area appearing ahead on the prep sports scene is the 21st annual Palatine Relays to be run on Ost Field Saturday, April 25. Indications point to a big entry list equaling at least last year's total of 30 schools.

We feel pretty certain there will be some new records this year. Two champs of the Oak Park indoor relays are potential record holders.

Dick Winterbauer of Arlington Heights, who put the shot over 52 feet to win at Oak Park, is the best bet to crack a record 50 feet 7¼ inches on the books since 1936.

Last year Winterbauer took third in the Palatine meet with Bolen of DeKalb the winner. With Bolen back there should be the type of competition for first place which produces a record.

IN THE BROAD JUMP the one-two men are back but, of course, the mark of 23 feet set two years in a row by Arlington's little Gordon Busse will be a tough one to equal. Roger Severance of Ottawa won the broad jump at Oak Park Saturday with a mark of 21' 10", which was just about the same distance he jumped to win at the Palatine Relays last April. Bob Bradley of Leyden took second last year at Palatine and got a fourth Saturday at Oak Park. This pair might push each other up to Busse's mark.

This year there will be an added incentive at the Palatine Relays in that in addition to the usual trophies presented to "A" and "B" class winners, the George Spies Co., through whom medals and trophies are purchased, will present large traveling trophies to the winning teams in each class.

A team winning a trophy three times will gain permanent possession. Frank Gannon, representative of the George Spies Co. and former teacher at Palatine high school, will be one of the finish judges at the meet.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS WILL HAVE a new varsity basketball coach next season. Ray DeGreeff, who formerly coached at Quincy college, will seek another position after handling the cage destinies of the Cardinals for two seasons. Former Coach "Gene" Bell, who has been in service and is back looking for a coaching position, has decided not to return to Arlington Heights, we understand.

Bell coached Arlington during the period when the Cards were playing free lance ball after the breakup of the North-east-conference. He had some good ball teams.

Ray DeGreeff came on the scene with basketball material at low ebb and Arlington in the fast West Suburban conference. The Cards have played some good ball and some poor ball, but have been no match for the better teams of their conference.

With a championship frosh-soph team this year and a very strong frosh outfit, better days appear to be ahead for Arlington Heights in basketball. One of the bright spots in DeGreeff's two years at Arlington is a 3-0 record over neighboring Palatine, a team which used to have the Indan sign on the Cards.

ONE OF THE MAIN REASONS Palatine has been so successful in golf in recent seasons is the policy of the A. T. McIntosh company, owners of Inverness golf club. Palatine high teams have been given free golfing at this sporty private club for occasional practices and the holding of team matches. The cooperation and interest of the club owners has been a real incentive for high school boys to take up golf and has made a high school team possible.

Palatine has won 41 and lost 14 against the best suburban competition over the past three years. The Pirates have won the conference the past three seasons, the last two tournaments being held at Inverness club, which has been designated site of the 1953 event.

THE MOST AMBITIOUS baseball schedule ever lined up by a Chicago suburban area school is the one Barrington is attempting this year under the direction of their new coach, Jack Kinder. A schedule of 28 games exclusive of the state district tournament has been arranged for the Bronchos. Seven dates call for doubleheaders.

The Bronchos lost Saturday to Waukegan, 3-2, and this coming week end play down state with a double header at Peoria Central Saturday, and a twin bill at Bloomington Monday.

Kinder has Canton carded for a double header at Barrington April 11 and Pekin will come up North for two games May 23. Other Barrington opponents are Crystal Lake, Libertyville, Woodstock, Dundee, Grayslake, Warren, Zion-Benton and McHenry. Barrington lettermen are Bob Iverson, p; Chuck Hohfelder, 3b; Mick McGowan, ss; Dick Popp, lf, and Ron Hovis, rf.

Don Bock, all-conference football and basketball star, is rated better in baseball than any other sports activity. He is an outstanding catcher and hitter. Coach Kinder, who coached at Wilmington last year, had a 25-4 season with Don Bock his star performer. He coached a state championship junior legion team in 1950.

JOSEPH SPRINGER of Notre Dame who placed third behind Don Laz and Bob Richards in the pole vault Saturday night at the Chicago Relays is the vaulter who won for Princeton high school at the Palatine Relays in 1949 . . . Only two schools, Bensenville and Palatine, are playing a golf schedule among members of the Northwest conference. However, most of the schools will enter the conference tournament at Inverness in Palatine Monday, May 25 . . . Palatine teams open a heavy spring sports schedule next week. The baseball team travels to Niles Wednesday, the 8th, the track squads are host to Warren varsity and Wauconda frosh-sophs Thursday, the 9th, and the golf team opens at Arlington Monday the 13th.

VARSITY WRESTLING awards at DeKalb college were given to Bob Mers of Riverside and John Reimer of York; JV basketball to Fabian Bayag of Riverside and Lloyd McRoy of Grayslake . . . New sports publicist at DeKalb is Woody Hasemann of Barrington . . . Rich Haskins of Downers Grove is second in line for the first base job at Illinois . . . With the Inter-City Golden Gloves matches out of the way the International bouts in June next . . . Proof that the Stadium is popular is proven by a five-night schedule of boxing, track, hocky, and basketball, ending Tuesday . . . Crying towel of DuSable rooters at the Sweet Sixteen dried somewhat Monday night in the 69-63 loss to St. George for the city championship.

Pirate Track And Golf Teams Open Next Week

Next week Palatine high teams open a strenuous spring schedule of athletic contests with the opener a baseball game at Niles in Skokie Wednesday, April 8. The next day, April 9, the track team opens at home against Warren in a varsity meet while the frosh-sophs oppose Wauconda.

Saturday, April 11, Palatine is host to both of Mooseheart's teams. The golf team will be the last to open the season but will have plenty of matches after the opener at Arlington Heights April 13.

COACH BAILEY'S baseball team appears to have good hitting this spring and if the pitching comes through should be right up there trying for the championship. Palatine has five veteran pitchers of whom two are Northbrook transfers, Don Webster and Art Schmidt. Paul Schrage has hurled two seasons but is a better infielder and may stick to third this year, and help out in relief.

Frank Hummel got valuable mound experience last summer in Junior Legion ball. "Tinker" Meyer twirled some brilliant ball last summer and might be the lad Bailey is looking for, but the newcomer from Wisconsin, George Ogurek, who has had a successful record might provide the answer.

The Pirates have some good hitters in Schrage, Meyer, Kenny Rehusch, Dick Abrahanson, and "Skip" Hauseman. Schrage has been a consistent .350 or better all through high school. Coach Bailey is still uncertain who next Wednesday's starters will be, but the best boys with the stick are pretty sure to be in the lineup.

COACH DICK WELTY has a heavy April schedule for his cindermen in preparation for the 21st Palatine Relays. Palatine will be in "A" class for the first time.

The Pirates meet Warren, Mooseheart, Lake Forest, Libertyville, Leyden, Antioch, Grant, and Grayslake during April. Palatine has a big squad, promising but green, and needing experience. Other teams to be met are Arlington Heights, Riverside, Niles, Wauconda, and Zion-Benton in the hardest lineup of meets any Palatine team has ever faced.

TWENTY-TWO BOYS have answered Coach Art Zimmer's call for golf candidate, much the largest squad ever to report at Palatine. Tryouts will be held next week at Inverness before the team of eight is slected to meet Arlington Heights in the season opener.

The Palatine schedule still has open dates May 4, 14, 21, and 28. Last week Highland Park's state champs were scheduled for May 27 and a pair of matches were carded with Glenbard at Arrowhead April 22 and at Inverness May 12.

Both Mt. Prospect Grade Cage Teams Are Champs

Both Mount Prospect grade school basketball teams, heavyweights and lightweights, won championships this season in Little 7 league play, the heavies taking 16 of 17 games throughout the season and the lights winning eight, losing six.

Only Wilmette beat the Mt. Prospect heavyweight five, 46-32. Opponents succumbing to the champs are St. Peter, St. James, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights and Palatine.

Top scorer was Roger Neunsinger with 56 and 13 for 125 points.

Coaching both teams was Bob Paddock, gym instructor at Central school in Mount Prospect. His son Jimmy, five-year-old kindergarten student, served as mascot for the heavies.

SEASON'S END came last week when the league coaches whipped the all-stars, 44-18. Bob Paddock was top man on the (successful) hit parade with 30 points. Others playing for the coaches were Cusake, Smitke, Look, Hayes and Norris.

Playing for the all-stars were Fischer, Mikan, Palmer, Stephan, Brownell, Henningsen, Ragland, Holznagel, Bjorklund, Strauss and Ovett.

Next activity for the league is the annual track meet in May.

John Sheppard Runs 880 In 2:15 For Heights

Coach John Ligon had a smile on his face Monday morning at Arlington Heights high school when interviewed on prospects for his frosh-soph track team. He was thinking of the efforts of sophomore John Sheppard, who ran a 2:15 half mile.

Coach John set a goal for each 220. Sophomore John hit each goal almost on the head. Time set for the half was 2:15. Time made — same.

But whether Sheppard will be kept with the frosh-sophs, or "kicked upstairs" to the varsity, remains to be seen from future workouts for Sheppard. He and Clyde Eberhardt have been running one and two in the distances for the frosh-soph trackmen.

With three outdoor practices last week, and an indoor practice meet at Maine Thursday on the docket, some positions are beginning to shape, but the squad is far from complete.

Wayne Mueller has put the shot 42 feet, Ray Hornbostel looks best in the 440, and Dick Malcomson appears certain to be entered in the 220.

Paddock Golf Tournament At Inverness Aug. 15

The idea of the twilight golf league paying its entry's fee in Paddock Publications Inter-League golf tournament gained momentum Monday night when the organizational meeting of the Arlington Heights twilight league, playing at Mt. Prospect country club, was held.

The league will set aside the necessary $10 to pay the entry money of its first place team as of August 1 for the tournament to be held Sunday, August 15, at Inverness in Palatine.

It has often been the contention of some of the golfers the league should pay the entry fee of the leading squad, making the fight for top position just that much stronger. With the idea taking hold in this first instance, tournament managers hope the six other leagues adopt the same plan in organization meetings being held at this time.

DEFINITE WORD that this year's tournament between first place teams of seven golf leagues playing at courses within the area served by Paddock Publications could be held at the Inverness club, "a neutral course," was received this week.

Inverness is a private club located west of Palatine. Holding the tourney at that layout means the 28 golfers competing in the event in August will all be "new" to the course.

The past three years the event has been held at Mt. Prospect country club, through cooperation with Bob Sophie, manager. It has been difficult to reserve a course for a Sunday tournament. Private courses don't permit it, and public courses don't care to interrupt their heavy week end play.

MOST DETAILS of the tournament are known to leagues competing. Further information about the meet will be given, come summer, in issues closer to the big meet.

In essence, only the first place teams of twilight leagues playing at local golf courses are eligible with a large traveling trophy and individual medals to members of first, second and third place teams up for grabs.

Gymnastics Show At Arlington In May

First announcement of a gala gymnastics show May 15 at Arlington Heights high school was made Tuesday night by Coach Gay Hughes after a meeting of planners was held. Involved will be 300 students representing boys and girls physical education classes, the band front, and gymnastics classes. Complete details will be given in future issues.

Organizing Tri-City Women's Golf League

Tri-City Women's golf league, which plays at Mount Prospect Country club, will begin its 1953 season Tuesday, May 26. Opening luncheon arrangements are being made for April 28, and details will be printed soon. Cards will be mailed to all 1952 members.

Former members who wish to play with the league this season are asked to contact Helen Becker, CL. 3-7469, or Stella Smith, CL. 3-3064.

There will be openings for new members, and women interested in joining can call either Mrs. Becker or Mrs. Smith for information.

Arlington Hosts York Monday In West Suburban Opener

by BOB PADDOCK

"Need more hitting, the infield's set, pitching not strong enough."

That, in brief, is the baseball situation at Arlington Heights high school where Coach Ray DeGreeff's nine was scheduled to open the season against Niles Wednesday of this week.

West Suburban league play opens Monday with the Cardinals hosting York at Recreation Park.

THREE POSITIONS are cinched for Arlington. Charley Verret is the number one catcher, Bob Thompson is certain in center field, and Wayne Hesch will start at second. Then, too, John Eakins is a certainty on the team, either at third, short or in the outfield wherever he can be the most valuable to the team.

Tentative lineup released Monday morning found Roger Thomas at first, Eakins at third, Dick Amann at short, Fred Good i left and Herb Gorder in right.

Two other infielders are Ken Lemke and Ted Bakalar, Dennis Straus is number two catcher, with Jack Sieburg and Bob Dotts earmarked for the outfield.

NUMBER TWO problem is the outfield. Stronger hitters are needed. With the infield overloaded one or two boys may be moved to the outfield to provide the most punch.

At short Amann is listed better at the plate, but not up to par in the field. Thomas is acceptable at first insofar as fielding goes, but may not hit too well.

Lemke and Bakalar will undoubtedly see plenty of action in earlier games. In fact, almost everyone was slated to compete in that opener Wednesday against Niles.

The green light was given Monday for the park diamond, always among the best fields in the suburban area, but the day long rain Tuesday made the odds prohibitive against the Niles contest Wednesday.

ON THE MOUND Coach DeGreeff has Wayne Brumm and Mike Shanklin as numbers one and two. Backing them will be Dave Ryden and Ed Linneman.

Ryden threw the ball hard in the first intrasquad game Friday, a six inning affair, but doesn't have the proper control to date. Otherwise the first scrimmage revealed a ragged defense. Bright lights were Brumm on the mound and Hesch at the plate.

The pitchers were slated to work two innings apiece Wednesday.

Arlington Coaches At Two Meetings

Four coaches of Arlington Heights high school attended the third annual banquet of the northern officials association Saturday night at Hank's restaurant, route 51, west of Waukegan.

Reuben Conrad, one of the Arlington Heights members of the group, escorted Wally Grace, Bill Beckman, and Ray DeGreeff as his guests. The banquet annually fetes varsity basketball and football officials, and athletic directors.

"Bus" Ormsbee attended the Purdue university football clinic over the week end with Maine high school mentor Ken Olson.

Set Golf Dates For District And League

Definite dates and places for both district and conference golf tournaments with Arlington Hts. high school host were released this week by Coach Curtis Larsen.

The district will be held at Old Orchard May 8. The West Suburban conference meet will be held at Rolling Green Country club May 25.

Both clubs are cooperating with the local high school in putting on these tournaments. Both clubs have donated the courses for practices and matches, enabling the local school team to get plenty of experience during the week without the attendant expense of hundreds of dollars to the taxpayers.

ELIMINATIONS for the squad of 15 selected from the 25 boys trying for berths are slated to start Thursday afternoon, and continue through Tuesday.

Development of the boys appears better this year than last, with Coach Larsen seeing a difficult time ahead to make the final cut.

First match will be against Palatine April 13. The local squad was conference champion two year running, and will be out to make it three in a row, though the task appears more difficult this season than ever before.

BBYO-CYO Tourney

The 19th annual basketball classic between the champions of the BBYO and the champions of the CYO will be held Tuesday, April 7, at the International Amphitheatre. These championship games will complete the season of activities which saw tournaments held by both organizations throughout the entire city during the past several months.

Arlington Gymnasts Lose To Senn, Chicago

Arlington Heights high school gymnasts lost to Senn of Chicago, 1084.35 to 828.15 Friday afternoon in the local gymnasium. The loss was the fourth in five meets in the Cardinals' first year of gymnastics.

In one sense the meet was an improvement over the former meeting between the two schools, a 1233 to 807 affair in the big city a month earlier. The locals added 21 points to their performance this time.

Coach Gay Hughes' squad garnered six thirds Friday, as compared to four thirds the other meet. These places were taken by Don Bates on high bar, side horse and long horse, Clay Bebber on parrallel bar, Don Helfers on long horse, and Bob Lueder on the parallel bar.

THIS MEET was based on accumulated points by all competitors in each of three divisions for both teams. Arlington had just one boy, Don Bates, competing in the championship division, with Senn having the limit, three. Five boys are permitted in the intermediate division, seven in the novice group.

Bates' best mark was on the high bar where he took nine required, 12 optional. It still meant just third place, however, as Rudd and DeValasco tied for first at 22.75.

In the intermediate division Heights top score on the four pieces of equipment was Don Helfers with 20.5 on the long horse, good for third. Twenties were tallied by Bob Catherwood on the side horse and Dick Dreyer on the long horse.

TOP FIGURE in the novice division, one event, was the 19.5 of Carl Kratwurst on the high bar which failed to gain a place. First place in that division on that equipment was 23 by Karpke of Senn.

Bob Lueder took third on the parallel bar with 17.8. He was high man in the novice division for Coach Hughes with 66.8 points.

Total points contributed to the Heights cause: Don Bates 74.45, Clay Bebber 73.25, Don Helfers 70.25, Bob Catherwood 69.25, Dick Dreyer 61.5, Chuck Jarmuth 50.25, Carl Kratwurst 64.25, Bob Lueded 66.8, Mike Werner 52.75, John Koeppen 60.25, Dick Kimbrough 65, Fritz Snyder 59.75 and Bob Baas 62.

John Bauer, Bob Lenzini, Art Twardock, and Tom Flack have been entered in weight events; Dale Foster and Jim Wright in the pole vault; Joe Corley, Joel McNulty, and Willard Thompson in hurdle events; Clark Hiller, Dick Wham, and Bob Kabel in the jumps.

For flat races Johnson has entered Walt Jewsbury, Gene Maynard, Stacey Siders, Ocie Trimble, Bud DeMoss, and Ralph Fessenden. DeMoss, however, may forego the trip to concentrate on spring football.

Ruining Rocky's Arm Good Luck For Marciano

Rocy Marciano, the heavyweight champion of the world, has turned adversity into a lucky break.

The Rocky, once considered a great baseball prospect ruined his throwing arm in the army when he decided to pitch one day instead of staying behind the plate, his usual spot. It was a great disappointment to the Brockton Blockbuster, but now, he can look back on it as the luckiest thing that ever happened.

THEY SAY Ralph Kiner and Ted Williams hold the record for salaries in baseball at $90,000 a year. There is even some doubt as to the veracity of those figures. But Marciano figures to make well over $200,000 as his end of the coming ing Walcott battle at the Chicago Stadium, April 10. It would have taken Babe Ruth nearly three years to make that at his fabulous $80,000 a year.

Not only that, but Rocky is Mr. Boxing. He is the biggest name in sports at the moment since upwards of 50,000,000 people have seen him in action from time to time. As a ball player, even with the lowly Cubs, he would have been just one of the boys.

AT THE MOMENT Rocky is forgetting about baseball and is concentrating on one Jersey Joe Walcott, who gave Rocky the greatest fight ever seen in any ring according to writers like Gene Kessler, Bill Corum, Red Smith and many others.

"People say I was lucky to win the last one. Well, I'm going on the premise that the worst can happen again and will be going for a kayo again. I hope it doesn't take me as long this time. But I learned a lot from watching the movies of the fight recently. I made a lot of mistakes that won't happen again. What were they, well, I'm not going to say. But don't forget I saw a lot of things Walcott did wrong, so maybe he won't notice them all."

Braves And Pirates Change Schedules

The Milwaukee Braves will make their first appearance against the Chicago Cubs in Wrigley Field Wednesday, April 22, which has been designated as Ladies Day.

The revised Cub home schedule, released today, features Milwaukee in two double headers in Chicago, on Sunday, May 24, and on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7.

A total of ten double headers will be played at Wrigley Field this year. Originally, only nine were billed, but under the revised schedule the original Cub-Boston game of September 9 has been canceled. Pittsburgh, which now inherits the original Boston schedule, will meet the Cubs in a double header here Tuesday, June 16. This originally was a single game.

This new double header is the only change in playing dates from the original 1953 Cub home schedule. In all cases, Milwaukee takes the place of Pittsburgh, and Boston will play Pittsburgh's schedule.

Bits O' Business

A New York bank, seeking new checking accounts, bids for prospects who have been irritated by those cardboard checks designed for business-machine tabulation. This bank's checks are hard ones, too, but the depositor is told to feel perfectly free to fold, mutilate or spindle . . . A U. S. court ordered Swiss investors to submit bank records of the ownership of their interest in big U. S. Aniline and Film. Swiss laws hold such records inviolate. Now Switzerland must decide whether to frighten other investors by breaking confidence, or see the alien property office take the company without further ado . . . Poultry Institute members who promised to eat three turkeys apiece between September and January showed up at their annual convention with 52,121 wishbones as evidence.

International Show

When the curtain came down on the 13th annual International Kennel club show at the Amphitheatre in Chicago last Sunday evening, it did so in a blaze of glory and a lot of personal satisfaction for one individual. That person was Dr. George A. Richardson of Ann Arbor, Mich., who as owner and handler worked his dog all the way up through the classes to the "Best in Show" award.

The dog, a German shepherd named "Ch. Jodo von Liebestraum," really was quite a showman himself and when set up for examination he would hold the pose for quite some time. What makes the award rather interesting from the human standpoint is that it usually seems that a professional handler is the one who handles a dog in a show of this size up to the final award, however, in this case it was the owner himself who did the job against some mighty stiff odds.

THE SHOW ended with an official catalog count of 2196 dogs and with an entry of 2340 representing the total which in many cases of course showed more than one class in which a dog had been entered.

As usual the lady from Palatine, Theresa E. Thurmer had the greatest number of entries from our area when she registered in 5 dogs. Actually from the area served by your paper there were 77 dogs entered by 45 individuals.

Some of the major placings in various classes included a Great Dane "Medinah of Evanger" owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Evanger of Wheeling, which ended up as Best of Winners in her class. Also over Skokie way the Afghan Hound "Rudiwin's Pondera" owned by Mrs. Lorayne Muhlke won first in the American bred dog's class for its breed. That lady from Palatine, Theresa E. Thurmer, did pretty well for herself when one of her Chihuahuas "Thurmer's Toni" won the Winner's Dog award—which helps along the way for championship points.

ALSO FROM Palatine, Mrs. J. Fleischmann's standard Poodle "Willowcrest Kabeyan" won the American bred class for her breed. The little stylish Pointer "Twin Willows Starlight" won first in her puppy class for Edward A. Halter of Roselle and from Northbrook that sad looking English Bulldog with a heart as big as can be, "Sandow," owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Glass won the first place award for dogs bred by exhibitor.

From Glenview the miniature Poodle owned by the "Willowcrest Kennels" of Oscar Franzen ended up with the "Winners Dog" award. The dog, "Willowcrest Beau Brummel" was up against some rather stiff going, but that win also helps for a championship eventually. Also from Glenview, the Toy Poodle, "Forest Flippant" owned by the Ursafell Kennels won the Open Dog class.

The breed which had the greatest number of entries was the German Shepherd and from that breed came three different winners from around here. Winning the Puppy Dog class 6 to 9 months was "Derry of Krog Farm" owned by Fred Krog, of Roselle. Winning the Puppy Dog class 9 to 12 months was the German shepherd, "Mark V. Ebenholz" owned by H. G. and W. M. Hendryx also of Roselle. In the American bred dog class of this breed the winner was "Hector V. Ebenholz" owned by H. R. and D. M. Mielke of Mount Prospect.

THAT FRISKY Airedale Terrier "Ardendale Super Salesman" owned by Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Bensman of Northbrook won the American bred dog class and for another breed which is also up on its toes the Boxer "Allspice of Ferrywood" owned by Donald J. Ferry, of Bensenville, won the "Bred by Exhibitor" class for dogs of its breed.

The stylish looking Gordon Setter "Gunbar's Dare Devil" owned by Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Platt of Palatine, also took first in the "Bred by Exhibitor" class for dogs of that breed. Also among some of the winners was the Kerry Blue Terrier "Keough's Sugar 'N Spice" owned by Mr. and Mrs. James J. Keough of Roselle which won the 6 to 9 months puppy class for her breed.

All in all the show was quite a success and from the standpoint of size will someday, I think, perhaps be the number one indoor show in the United States. Needless to say however, there were a lot of tired people when it was over—myself included.

Dog Stealing

Speaking about the show and also the fact that a valuable dog was stolen from the event brings to mind that a veritable wave of dog stealing — particularly, purebred, registered dogs—appears to be in progress in some sections of the country. One favorite method is to take the animal from a parked automobile and with the result that in some cases even a demand for ransom has been asked for the return of the dog.

Knowing at all times the whereabouts and doings of their pets is the best means dog-owners have of preventing the loss or theft of their pets. To help overcome the problem and also give dog owners an identification form which gives more specific information, Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park ave., New York 17, N. Y., has made available for the asking such a form. This sheet, intended to be kept with the owner's other valuable papers, can be filled out listing, in the correct places provided, important information such as size, color, markings, special identification marks, etc., and can be brought out when an emergency occurs and special information is needed to help identify the dog or to prove ownership.

Winterbauer's 52' Toss Wins At Oak Park

Oak Park and Evanston may have walked off with team scoring in the Oak Park Relays Saturday, but it was Arlington's ever-trying, serious minded Dick Winterbauer that took the cake as far as local fans are concerned.

Dick put the shot 52'5¾" on his second throw in the preliminaries, good enough for first place and five points in the event. He tossed the heavy weight over 50 feet three times.

Winterbauer is just a junior. He's shown plenty of interest in track, just as he does in football where he was selected all-conference last fall. Dick also has been tossing the discus 151' in practice.

FIRST OUTDOOR competition will be next week Friday, April 10, when Coach Russ Attismen go against Niles and Leyden on the local track.

Chris Kent lasted into the semi-final heats in the high hurdles at Oak Park. Carroll Werner broad jumped 19'9". Neither Werner nor Jim Roberts made the quarter finals in the 50 yard dash, both being eliminated in the 11 beginning heats.

Other Heights entries included the 16-lap and sprint medley relays in which the Cardinals received only exercise. Arlington ranked 15th with five points, all Winterbauer's. An indoor practice meet at Maine is planned for Thursday.

GLENBARD SCORED 10½ points to take tenth.

Dick Cline scored half the Bards' points by winning the first mile run in 4:38.2. Tom Hill came through with a tie for second place in the pole vault. He and Gordon Bell of Oak Park each cleared the bar at 11 feet 6 inches.

Glenbard's other points were scored by the 16 lap relay team which came in fifth. Les Long, Ed Berndt, Harold Hoyer and Dave Clarke ran on this heat-winning team, but their time was good enough for only fifth place. Maine nosed the Bards out of fourth place by 1/10 of a second.

Tatum's Antics With Trotters Draw Crowds And 40 Gs For The Goose

"All the world's a stage," said William Shakespeare, and Goose Tatum, who will appear with the Harlem Globetrotters when they oppose the College All-Americans in Chicago Stadium Sunday afternoon, April 5, has been playing the clown's role on it the past several years.

It is doubtful whether Tatum ever read Shakespeare. But, he's been using the world for a stage for his laugh-provoking antics for some time, during which he has become the most famous international sports figure of all time . . . and drawing down a cool 40 thousand dollars plus for his activities each year.

ANYONE WHO HAS ever seen Tatum on the court will never forget his face or his flopping figure. A grotesque, wild-eyed countenance tops a scarecrow-like body . . . his arm spread of 84 inches from finger-tip to finger-tip gives him the appearance of a flying man from Mars . . . his shrill, bird-like scream sends chills up and down your spine. But he's the funniest pantomime character since Chaplin, and he plays the role to the hilt.

Globetrotter owner Abe Saperstein discovered Tatum when he was a gangling youth trying out for the Birmingham Black Barons baseball club, of which Saperstein was a part-owner. The Goose had come into the training camp virtually barefooted from the canebrakes of El Dorado, Ark., where he was born. Although it was evident he had the makings of a ball player, Tatum could not fit into the veteran Black Barons club and was sent to a farm team, the Minneapolis Gophers. There he started the career to make him one of the most talented first basemen in Negro baseball.

HIS LONG ARMS and big hands and comic antics afield gave Saperstein the idea he might make a good basketball player. He was so awkward at first that even members of the Globetrotter squad tried to discourage Saperstein from his idea. But Tatum's intense desire to learn forced the Trotters' owner to overlook his lack of ability. Abe's patience paid off and, finally, in 1939, Tatum made his debut with the Globetrotters—and was on his way to international fame as basketball's number one box office attraction.

Tatum has personally developed many of the gags that now send the crowd into the aisles, doubled-up with laughter.

For example, one day he talked a baker in Chicago into baking a pumpernickel in the shape of a basketball, complete with seams. That night, he secreted the ball during a time-out and, when play was resumed, he stood in the middle of the floor and calmly peeled off the bread, stuffing it into his mouth. Even his teammates had hysterics that night.

Another of his tricks, and one that sends European crowds into ecstasy, is his elastic-band ball. Tatum will be fouled and fake an injury. Going to the bench, he'll substitute a trick ball for the regulation one. Then he'll get ready to shoot his foul. He'll let go of the ball, then pull it back on an elastic attached to the ball just as it hits the rim of the basket.

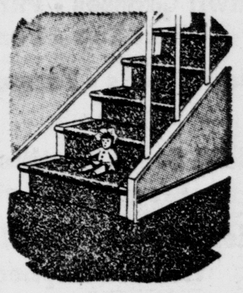
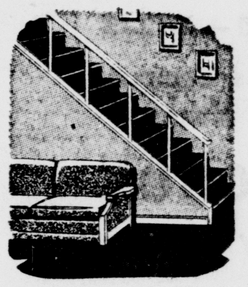
DON'T OVERLOOK ACCIDENT HAZARDS

Of the appalling number of accidents that occur in the home, a large percentage of them are the result of carelessness. Many of these could be prevented by making frequent checkups and eliminating possible causes. Like slip-proofing small rugs that slide too easily on waxed floors; repairing faulty electrical outlets.





MAKE STAIRWAYS SAFE

Stairways are one of the major contributors to home-accident casualty lists. Always make sure that the stair carpet is firmly fastened on each tread. Provide adequate lighting on stairways. Never leave stray articles on stairs or landings. If stairway is painted, a luminous white line on the edge of each tread gives extra safety . . . especially on basement stairs.

Farm Head Calls Price Supports Failure Here

Government price supports for farm products at 90% of parity levels were branded a "gross failure" here by Charles B. Shuman, president of the Illinois Agricultural association.

"The present price and supply situation of many farm products shows that such high government fixed prices just get farmers into trouble," Shuman said.

"Look at the evidence," Shuman said. "Prices have been going down for more than a year and the commodities that are having the most trouble are the ones that have been supported by the government at high levels.

"SURPLUS SUPPLIES of these commodities—butter, corn, cotton, wheat — have accumulated until they're a burden on the market.

"Other commodities," the IAA president pointed out, "from which government price supports were removed have taken the price adjustments and are now in better shape with regard to supply and demand. Included were potatoes, eggs, fruits, vegetables and pork.

"Beef which is not supported by the government is the chief exception," Shuman said. "But cattle men are taking the price adjustment and are not asking for government supports," he added.

SINCE THE FARM Bureau organization in Illinois opposes 90% of parity price fixing by the government, Shuman said that farmers have a greater responsibility to make plans for their own future.

"One thing they should do," he said, "is to continue a Farm Bureau program of having local meetings so farmers can develop a new approach to a national farm program.

The basis of such a farm program, according to Shuman, must be that farmers undertake to do for themselves many things which the federal government has been doing in the past.

He said such a program should include these features:

1. IT WOULD ELIMINATE or reduce subsidy payments for normal farm business practices.

2. It would place federal crop insurance on an actuarial basis with the USDA setting up a crop re-insurance program to encourage existing companies to take over this kind of work.

3. Development of a plan for farm organizations and industry groups to tell consumers which food products are in abundant supply.

4. It would encourage farm organizations to do a better job of selling food products abroad, and in the government support program so that changes in the supply and demand picture could be reflected to farmers.

"The federal government must be as ready to fight deflation as it has fought inflation in the past," Shuman concluded. "But our first responsibility is to develop a program whereby farmers can do things for themselves.

"I challenge you Farm Bureau leaders to help accomplish this task," he said.

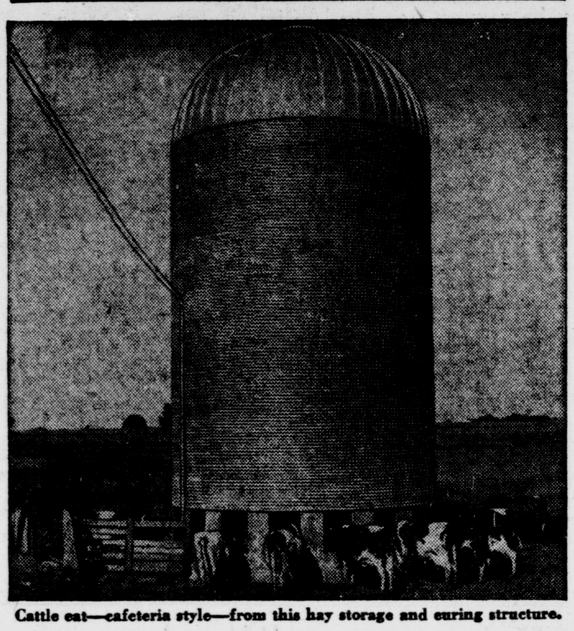
ROAMING THE HIGHLINES

with Ira Miller
FARM ELECTRIFICATION BUREAU



Cattle eat—cafeteria style—from this hay storage and curing structure.

Storing and curing hay provide enough headaches for the average farmer. And, when you add the extra pitchfork and earting chores necessary to get the cured hay to hungry cattle, the man-hours of hard labor begin to pinch both time and muscles.

Of course the best idea would be some kind of structure in which all three operations could be combined. A Tennessee farmer was convinced that this could be done. So was a manufacturer with whom he talked. Together they worked out what is called a self-feed haymaker.

The new silo-type structure is of all-steel construction, with heavy corrugated sections of burst-proof strength. It rests on a concrete base, around the sidewalls of which are a number of openings. Hay is chuted into these openings where cattle can help themselves without benefit of personal attention.

Chopped hay is recommended for use in the haymaker. It is blown into an opening in the dome of the structure and drops down around a vertical shaft or wind tunnel. An electrically-operated fan is connected to the shaft to either exhaust unheated air from the stored hay or to blow heated air into it. The moisture laden air is "pushed" or "pulled" out through the perforated sides of the haymaker, depending on the type of curing desired. Fans may be located either above the entry door of the haymaker or in the base.

For best results, hay, to be stored and cured, should be cut as soon as the dew has dried. It can be stored and the curing operation started when the moisture content is down to 45 percent. Mechanically cured hay retains a higher percentage of vitamin A and carotene content than that which has been dried in the field and, therefore, its feeding value is higher. Farmers who feed top quality hay will need less grain and, at the same time, will find their cows eating better and giving more milk.

Vesicular Exenthema In Hogs Causing Trouble

Stillman Stanard, director of the Illinois department of agriculture, has issued a directive concerning vesicular exanthema in swine. The directive was issued because of reports that shipments of hogs reaching California from midwestern states had been afflicted with the fatal disease.

There was no report that diseased swine were actually being shipped, but attention was called to the possibility that the contagious disease had been carried in infected trucks, rail cars and other vehicles used in the transportation of swine.

Stanard's directive stated that wherever vesicular exanthema is found enroute or at destination in Illinois, all yards, pens, premises, rail cars, trucks, etc., used in the conveyance of said swine should be cleaned and disinfected at the owners' expense under the supervision of the department of agriculture, state of Illinois. Text of the directive follows:

PURSUANT TO THE provision of "An Act to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases among swine" approved June 21, 1895, and in order to prevent the introduction into this State of swine which it has reason to believe are infected with contagious or infectious diseases and to prevent, suppress or extirpate the occurrence of contagious or infectious disease among swine within this state and to protect the health of swine in the State of Illinois from contagious and infectious diseases, the Department of Agriculture, State of Illinois, hereby promulgates the following rules and regulations:

Rule No. 1. In the case of swine moving inter or intrastate it is ordered that where vesicular exanthema is found enroute or at destination that all yards, pens, premises, rail cars, trucks, and other vehicles used in the conveyance of said swine shall be cleaned and disinfected at the owners' expense under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture, State of Illinois.

DuPage Hogs

DuPage county hogs were high sellers at the Chicago Stock Yards on Tuesday's market.

Warwood Farm, of Wheaton, was represented by a shipment of 22 head of crossbred butcher hogs that averaged 228 pounds each which sold for $20.60 per cwt., the practical top of the market.

Although the range in hog prices is not exceptionally wide at this time of the year, there is a spread between sales of the same weights at Chicago, because buyers bid premium prices for quality hogs that show high cut out values, a marketing specialist at Chicago commented.

The extreme top of the market remained unchanged from the previous day's top at $20.75 per cwt. The average for the day was $20.45 per cwt. This is the narrowest range in prices for the month of March in 7 years.

Caution ACP Cooperators On Local Farms

Farmers cooperating in the 1953 agricultural conservation program should be fully aware of several important program changes, cautioned Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the Cook county PMA committee.

This is especially true for those farmers approved for the application of limestone and rock phosphate, said the committeeman. Under previous programs these two practices were interchangeable. This is no longer true for 1953. If a farmer is approved for limestone, he must use limestone in order to earn credit for payment unless he obtains official permission from the county committee to carry out some other practice. The same is true for rock phosphate and any and all other practices.

IN OTHER words, continued Mr. Bormet, if a farmer, for good reason, finds he cannot carry out a practice set up for his farm he should contact the county PMA committee and request that his approval be changed to some other practice. This applies to limestone, to rock phosphate, to potash, to superphosphate (0-20-0), and to all other practices.

In all such cases the request to change from one practice to another must be presented to, and approved by, the county committee before the practice is started.

Check-Up Can Stop Machine Breakdowns

Taking the time to put a piece of farm equipment into top-notch condition before field work starts may save a costly and painful accident, as well as time-consuming breakdowns.

In urging farmers to get their field equipment in good shape, J. W. Matthews, executive secretary of the Illinois rural safety council, also points out that poorly conditioned equipment is irritating, tiresome and inefficient to operate.

Matthews suggests starting farm machinery repairs with a careful inspection to locate sources of trouble. The Safety Council's list of things to check includes hitches, seats, clutches, brakes and other controls, as well as such unguarded revolving parts as gears, chains and shafts.

TRACTOR FUEL lines and wiring systems are especially important, since leaking fuel and worn wiring cause many bad tractor fires each year. It's also important to remove dirt, trash and grease from platforms, pedals, foot rests and steps to make sure of having safe footing when operating equipment. The careful operator also makes sure he has a fire extinguisher on his tractor, and provides secure holders for grease guns or other servicing tools carried on the tractor, Matthews says. Loose tools can lead to falls and other casualties.

Another place to use special precaution is in checking home-made equipment for accident hazards. Many times the home handy-man overlooks safety features when building his own equipment.

What Commercial Nitrogen Best?

So far as crop and forage response is concerned, it makes little, if any, difference which type of commercial nitrogen you use.

E. H. Tyner, Illinois college of agriculture agronomist, explains that experiments with different commonly used forms of nitrogen show about equal results when equal amounts of actual nitrogen are applied.

There are differences, however, in the time when some of these fertilizers can be applied for best results.

IN GENERAL, ammonium sulphate, urea, calcium cyanamid and anhydrous ammonia can be applied when soils are cool—about 50-55 degrees F.—with no danger of leaching losses. These are the types of nitrogen to plow under in late fall or very early spring.

Ammonium nitrate, or any other nitrogen fertilizer where most of the nitrogen is carried in the form of a nitrate, should not be plowed under or disked in for corn until the maximum leaching is past, or after mid-April in Illinois.

Nitrate-carrying commercial nitrogen can be applied, however, on wheat or grass meadows when early spring growth starts. It can also be applied early for oats.

TYNER ADVISES buying nitrogen fertilizers on the basis of (1) price per pound of nitrogen, (2) the type of nitrogen carrier that can be handled best with the equipment available for distributing it and (3) time of application.

On the question of liquid versus solid fertilizers, Tyner points out that the liquid forms, except for anhydrous ammonia, are simply solid fertilizers in solution. Their value as fertilizer is the same as that of solids, and in each case the value is determined by the amount of plant food they supply. If liquid fertilizers have any advantage, it would have to be in the cost or in handling advantages, such as transportation, storage or application.

Lead In Paint Is Poisonous To Cattle

A University of Illinois veterinarian reminds farmers to protect their cattle against poisoning when using a lead paint around the barn.

Dr. D. A. Willigan of the college of veterinary medicine says cattle sometimes are poisoned when they lick fresh lead paint from barns, gates or fences or chip off old, flaking paint with their teeth. Faulty nutrition has been blamed for paint-eating in some cattle.

In a recent case of lead poisoning, an Illinois dairyman lost seven calves, four of them in one week, after he had painted the ceiling of the calf stall. The calves had swallowed drops of the paint that had fallen to the floor.

Symptoms of lead poisoning in cattle include weakness, diarrhea, trembling, loss of appetite, apparent blindness and sometimes paralysis. A prompt diagnosis and treatment by a veterinarian will help to save poisoned calves. In an emergency, a purgative dose of Epsom salts may also be effective.

Local Breeders To Attend Policy Session

Scientific breeding service will have a representative meet with the state policy committee of the American breeders service at the Park hotel in Madison Wednesday, April 8.

Executives of the American breeders service will discuss various matters of policy, including semen saving, possibilities of semen freezing, sire selection, purebred dairy cattle association and regulations, and other subjects of timely interest and importance.

It is expected that most of the directors and officers of the Iowa, Wisconsin, and Illinois organizations will attend this meeting. County Agents and the State College Dairymen have been invited.

FARMERS ATTENTION!

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Business Center in Home

HOMEMAKING is a "business," and it could be kept in a more businesslike manner if there were a desk and files. Every family needs such a center for the household's business operations.

You needn't even purchase a desk. Just take a couple of old filing cases, add a piece of smooth-surfaced Masonite Presdply, three-quarters of an inch thick, for a top, and your "home office" is practically ready for use.

Presdply is a versatile panel which is unusually strong. Its smooth surfaces of Tempered Presdwood are long-wearing — so tough, in fact, that many factory workbenches are covered with it. The surface may be treated with a penetrating sealer or varnish; if you like, it may be primed and painted.

In putting this simple desk together, have the Presdply cover both filing cases, leaving a 24-inch space as leg room. Drill holes in the tops of the cases—one at the front and back of each, at the extreme outer edges—and fasten the top by applying wood screws from underneath. Wood molding, available at the lumber yard that furnishes the top, may be attached with finishing nails around the edges of the top. Varnish, stain or paint the molding.

IAA Sponsors New Truck Bill For Farmers

A bill which would put licenses for light weight trucks owned by private carriers on a mileage fee basis will be sponsored in the state legislature by the Illinois Agricultural Association.

The bill is designed to correct inequities in the present truck license law and give relief to low-mileage truckers, according to John K. Cox, IAA secretary of general services.

This bill, if passed by the legislature, would also rule out the increase in truck license fees scheduled to go into effect in 1954, Cox said.

Under the IAA proposed bill, truckers with trucks in the classification of "C" through "H", could apply for a license and pay for it according to the number of miles driven on the highway.

"The fee would vary from ½ cent per mile for a "C" truck to 2½ cents for an "H" truck," Cox said. A "C" truck is one with a gross weight of 8,000 pounds while an "H" truck has a gross weight of 24,000 pounds.

PMA Meeting Held

Members of the resolution committee of the Pure Milk Association met recently in Chicago to prepare the report of resolutions presented at the annual meeting of the Pure Milk association March 28.

High on the list of topics discussed at the meeting was increased emphasis on advertising and promotional efforts by dairy farmers to increase consumption of milk and milk products. Other topics at the annual meeting included import trade controls, price support program, imitation dairy products, marketing and distribution problems as they pertain to milk and milk products.

Attending was W. J. Sawyer of Gurnee, representing district 7.

Think Twice About Stocking That Fish Pond

This is the time of year when many owners of lakes or ponds begin to get nervous about the question of stocking their ponds. Almost universally in the past and too often now the majority of folks believed that to have good fishing a pond should have lots of fish; therefore one should dump in every year as many fish as one could get his hands on.

Studies by fish management men have pretty well determined that this conception is largely false, that in order to have satisfactory fishing in the average lake or pond the problem is how to take out surplus fish rather than add more.

JUST AS AN ACRE of pasture will feed just so many cows, so an acre of water will feed just so many fish, or rather so many total pounds of fish. Usually it's about 200 pounds per acre. Now this 200 pounds of fish can be 200 fish of 1 pound each or it can be 2,000 fish of 1/10 of a pound each.

We think rabbits are prolific in producing young but they are pikers in comparison to fish. A female bass will lay about 15,000 eggs, give or take a few thousand; a blue gill 25,000 and our dear friend the carp about 250,000. In a new pond where there are no predators to eat the eggs or young fish one can readily see how just one pair of most any variety of fish can quickly over-populate.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Does the receipt of a birth announcement obligate one to send a gift to the baby?

A. There certainly is no obligation attached, but it is a nice gesture. If, however, one feels one cannot afford a gift or is not on intimate terms with the new parents, then a congratulatory card or handwritten note would be in order.

Q. What should a person say when about to be introduced to the same person for the second time?

A. A suitable expression would be, "Thank you, but I have already had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Williams."

Q. Is it all right for one to use a knife to open a muffin?

A. Never. Bread of all kinds should be broken open with the fingers, never cut.

Q. If a girl is to be married in church wearing only an afternoon dress and having only one maid of honor, is she supposed to invite only a very few friends and relatives to a wedding of this type?

A. There is no limit to the number of guests she may invite to her wedding, provided, of course, there is ample room for everyone.

Q. When a man is dining with a woman in a restaurant, should he give his own or the woman's order to the waiter first?

A. He should consult his companion and give her order first, followed by his own.

Q. Is it proper to send formal invitations to a christening?

A. No; because only the family and a very few intimate friends are supposed to be asked.

Q. When a person is going away on an extended trip and a friend gives him a "send-off" party, should that person write his friend a letter of appreciation while away?

A. He should, and as soon as possible after leaving, expressing again how much he appreciated the thoughtfulness.

Q. Please suggest some light refreshments that can be served at a small wedding reception.

A. Cake, with coffee, tea or punch. Sandwiches and ices can be included if desired.

Q. Is it proper for a girl to use perfume in an office?

A. If the perfume is strong enough to "shout" itself, it should be avoided.

My wedding is to be very small and doesn't warrant the mailing of engraved invitations. How should I word the short notes of invitation to those friends I should like to attend?

A. They may be worded exactly as the engraved invitations are.

11% Bigger Yield at 35% LOWER COST!

Add MARLAND, The Triple-Action Product

Here Are Results Of a Farmer's Own Tests with Hoover COLLOIDAL PHOSPHATE, the Soil Builder

John Bunting, Danforth, Illinois, wanted to know what would bring best results in his own fields. So he put Colloidal Phosphate to a comparative test with his favorite chemical fertilizer, 3-12-12, in a field of corn. Results were decisive. The chemical fertilizer produced a yield of 71 bushels per acre at a cost of $2.30 per acre. Colloidal Phosphate brought 78.9 bushels per acre at a cost of $1.50 per acre. Think of it . . . 11% bigger yield at 35% lower cost! And that is typical of results secured by farmers the country over, for Colloidal Phosphate brings better results in practically any soil or climate. Action is immediate, because minerals are in the colloidal form plants require . . . ready to enter directly into the cellular structure and produce plant growth. Digestible is the word for it!

Whether it's used for grain, hay, legumes, vegetables or flowers, Colloidal Phosphate brings amazing results.

Just as Colloidal Phosphate is the natural source of phosphorous, Marland (greensand marl) is rich in pottassium plus many trace elements.

Marland releases these elements from insoluble form in the soil and feeds them to the plants as needed. It loosens and opens hard soils, binds sandy soils, regulates moisture and stimulates soil organisms. Marland absorbs sun heat in early spring, warming soil for earlier crops; also holds high moisture content, thus cooling soil during hot and dry weather.

While Colloidal and Marland may be used separately with good results, the two combined assures practically everything needed for ideal soil conditioning and heavy growth.

WHAT COLLOIDAL PHOSPHATE AND MARLAND DO . . .

- ★ Sweeten soil; counteract soil acidity.
- ★ Lower cost of fertilization.
- ★ Build up reserves of plant food.
- ★ Improve soil quality and texture.
- ★ Improve mineral content and quality of crops.
- ★ Conserve and retain moisture in soil.
- ★ Hasten maturity; increase quantity and quality of crops.
- ★ Stimulate germination when mixed directly with seed.
- ★ Can be broadcast or drilled with seed, thus saving cost of advance application and one complete discing job.
- ★ Promote growth of bacteria and soil organisms.
- ★ Feed freely through any fertilizer distributor. No special equipment needed.
- ★ Blend with soil and all other forms of fertilizer material.

And both are non-toxic to man, animal, soil, plants or machinery (never cause rusting or corrosion).

Your new car dealer's sense of community responsibility and a financial position that enables him to do so, is your assurance that he will "junk," not sell, undesirable cars that can't be put into safe driving condition.

His buying advantages on parts and equipment reduce reconditioning and guarantee costs. This savings is reflected in the selling price of his used cars.

Your new car dealer has the right equipment at hand to properly condition the used cars he sells. Factory-sponsored training programs are available to his mechanics.

He knows the history of many of the used cars he sells. Some of them he sold new and serviced until they were traded in. You can depend on the safety of used cars like these.

Town Topics . . .

People who start prairie fires used to be a small select group, but recently the membership has grown tremendously, with the result the volunteer firemen are being overworked.

It's pretty embarrassing when the fire truck pulls up to help you put out a fire that got out of hand. As a candidate for Famous Last Words we submit: "I can burn this rubbish all right. It's not very windy today."

Two Mount Prospect youngsters decided the firemen couldn't handle the volume of fires without assistance. They got out their wagons and equipped them for fire fighting with pails of water, croquet mallets, snow shovels, bicycle tire pumps, and make-shift bells.

The story last week about the students being permitted to chew bubble gum in school on Tuesdays brings to mind a similar episode. Teacher reprimanded a little girl for chewing bubble gum in class, and pointed out it not only was against the rules but it wasn't polite for her to chew unless all her classmates also had gum. So that afternoon she came back to school supplied with enough gum for the whole class.

In the pre-bubble gum era, chewing in class was done more surreptitiously. Remembering the wads stuck under the desks and seats, it can't be smugly said the children in those days didn't chew gum. One of the most effective punishments, though, was to be assigned to the gum removal detail, and have to stay after school and scrape off the wads.

Realizing that lawn-rolling is a controversial subject among gardeners, who argue its merits pro and con emphatically, we will first admit that our gardening is unprofessional and spasmodic. Next we'll admit we borrowed the neighbor's roller one of those balmy spring days and pushed and pulled the thing back and forth across the lawn.

Whether it pushed back into place the tufts of grass that had heaved with the frost, or whether it crushed the roots so they can't breathe, it did accomplish two things: it provided an excellent excuse to be outside, and it toned up our muscles so we were all ready for a seige of spring house cleaning.

You won't find the job listed in the want ad section, but the rumor is that the Mount Prospect police are looking for a temporary dog catcher until the official ones return from their winter vacation. The pay? The catcher can keep all the dogs that are caught.

There is more activity in township politics than in a good many years. The elections next Tuesday should attract more than the customary handful of citizens who exercise their franchise to vote.

Even fewer, though, are apt to attend the town meeting that afternoon. A few old-timers, mostly farmers, will turn out to hear the annual reports of the township officials. The town meeting is the last stand of a concept of government understood and practiced by the founding fathers of this country. Government has become so complex that voting is the extent of participation available to most citizens. Only a few can take an active part. To them is delegated the task of making decisions. But at the town meeting all those present can take part.

For the third consecutive year, tax bills were in the mails well in advance of the April 1 deadline. It is only the seventh time in the last 20 years the county treasurer's office has made it.

This is good news for the many taxing bodies whose fiscal year ends April 30, and for the school districts that would otherwise have to sell t . anticipation warrants to pay the teachers up to the closing of school.

Paying taxes through the township collector helps out these local governments, since he distributes the funds to the schools and villages immediately. Taxes paid downtown pass through the county collector's records before distribution is made.

Signs of the times:

Palatine last week approved a new $700,000 school building.

Arlington Heights announced they are looking for still another site, large enough to build a feeder school in the very near future, and accommodate a second junior high school when it is needed.

Mount Prospect advertised for bids on the six room Lincoln school addition.

Prospect Heights recently held a meeting to study the expansion of their school system.

The school building boom is going to last for some time. Population of the United States continues to increase month by month, and sometimes it seems all the increase is in the northwest part of Cook county.

Whereas formerly there were only a compartively few architects famous throughout the country for their work of designing school buildings, now many more are entering this highly specialized field.

Phone Rates

Will Mr. E. W. Springer or some of the other smart people tell the Fence Post forum all about the increase in telephone rates that the Supreme court just granted? I don't think I ever heard of anything like that before and when I wrote to the legislature they told me the Illinois produce commission, or something would handle that, not to worry about it.

Who is the Supreme court. Did the folks that use phones do something wrong or how did the law courts get into the fight?

Henry Mayer Kranz,
Wheeling.

In The Future

A Danish camera which produces up to 20 pictures on one sheet of film will be installed at studios in this country . . . A device which applies paste to wallpaper by drawing it through a trough by means of a roller is on the market for do-it-yourselves . . . A big coal company will deliver powdered coal to major users by pipeline . . . Stencils can now be applied from an aerosol can. Faster and less messy than brushing, say its makers . . . A powerful new magnetic sweeper to remove iron and steel fragments from roads and parking areas can be pulled by a tractor or attached to an in-plant lift truck . . . New plastics are being woven to protect the auto driver from that sliding-across-the seat-cover static shock.

Barrington Forecloses On Delinquent Lots

Barrington village board by unanimous vote took the final legislative step to foreclose on all lots in the village, both unimproved and improved, now delinquent in special assessment payments and sell them to the highest bidder in accordance with legal procedure in the courts and upon notification of the property owners, and anyone else who may be interested, by way of the local newspaper.

Half a dozen improved properties are affected by the action of the village trustees, and also at least a hundred vacant lots, on which payments of installments on special assessments for public improvements installed many years ago have been delinquent for five to 15 years.

Libertyville Nabs Gang Of Youngsters

Libertyville police last week reported rounding up a gang of five village youngsters responsible for destroying or stealing $328.35 in public and private property.

Police also reported that they caught two 17-year-old Libertyville youths who were responsible for setting fire to a barn owned by John Meade last Oct. 30. Damage amounted to $1,680.

Tom Hart

For 25 years, reading the Palatine Enterprise has been a real pleasure. Most people will agree with me that the Paddock family have always turned out an excellent small town paper — made that way, to a certain extent, by their writers, and more particularly by a writer known as Tom Hart, author of "Tales of the Street."

Due to illness Tom has had to abandon, temporarily, we hope, writing his "Tales." Tom would be amazed if he only knew just how many people miss his column. Speaking for many of Tom's friends and myself, I want to go on record and say that it was always a well-written column, dealing with good down-to-earth human interest items. Tom's background, made up of a life time in Palatine, and many years of public service, made it possible for him to write on public and municipal matters, past, present and future, in an experienced and authoritative manner. No one will ever know just how many village, school, and township meetings Tom attended wherein he received and imparted important knowledge and service. Tom had a great faculty in that if you told him an interesting bit of news, he could repeat it verbatim, in his column, two or three weeks later.

We have heard many people say, "Palatine is different, in a way that is hard to describe, but we like it." Could it be that Palatine has retained some of its older ways throughout this period of unprecendented growth? If that is the answer, then I believe much credit must be given to men like Tom Hart, who have been unselfish in everything they have done to make Palatine a better place to live in.

Get well soon, Tom, and in the meantime we will hold in abeyance, many tales for your future consumption — Things are buzzing, it's election time. I forgot to mention that your political writings, on a national scale, were always dull and uninteresting.

Roy L. LaLonde
Palatine

(Editors Note: For the past 20 years Roy has been the leader of the Democratic party in Palatine township whereas Tom for 40 years has been the titular head of the G. O. P., which explains the last sentence).

Good Competitor

Just a word from one competitor to another competitor; this is to say that I have been engaged in the same kind of business as our present mayor, Al Goedke, for the last 28 years in Arlington Heights.

Usually one competitor very seldom has anything good to say about his competitor, so it is quite unusual, to say the least, to say that in my 28 years of serving the plumbing needs of Arlington Heights and surrounding territories, I have always found Mr. Goedke to be very honorable and a man of his word.

In those 28 years Mr. Goedke has served the village in one capacity or another, and in my judgment, has been a very faithful and honest servant.

Geo. E. Palmer,
Arlington Heights.

Public Apathy

Monday evening a town meeting was held in Arlington Hts. for the purpose of presenting the candidates for the various offices in the coming election. The chairman made a heroic effort, and a noble gesture, in attempting to excuse the painfully obvious lack of attendance as due to a light rain.

I cannot refrain from referring again to a recent criticism of a previous letter I wrote to the Fence Post in which I asserted many of our problems in government are a result of public apathy. Certainly America's "lost heritage" was forcefully apparent to the few brave souls who felt it important to "battle" the elements to attend the Monday meeting. The time was when citizens would come from miles away without the comfort of the modern automobile to attend their town meetings; time again the crowds would be so large the seams of the building were in danger of busting.

No, public indifference and lack of interest is not the only cause of misguided, inefficient, bungling government, but it is an intensely dangerous disease which has been insidiously spreading throughout the land eating quietly but persistently our birthright of freedom and permitting the very foundations of our way of life to become stagnant and rotten.

How long and how loud must we shout to awaken our local citizenry to the fact that our community cannot improve, progress, and develop until more of its people are willing to give of their time and interest? History is overrun with examples of what inevitably happens when the majority of the people disregard their civic duties and responsibilities.

I say without shame or apology that when "I Love Lucy," a slight drizzle or some other equally inconsequential activity can result in such apathy as was apparent Monday evening, the prospects for the future of Arlington Heights and of America are not happy ones.

If I sound like an alarmist, I'm proud to be one; if I sound indignant, I admit it; if I sound caustic, I mean to be.

There is no cheap, easy road to real freedom. It takes some working and doing to win it and constant vigilance and action to keep it.

Ted C. Seiler
Arlington Heights.

Wm. Busse Speaks Up

I am in receipt of many letters from the people of Palatine and Arlington Heights too numerous to acknowledge receipt, thereof, about the rezoning of the Kimball-Hill tract which is now pending in the county board for approval or disapproval.

This development is of such magnitude that I feel it is not for the best interest of this community when I think of the present and future school children of the township of Palatine.

I hope to be home soon and if the recommendation of the Zoning Board of Cook county is still pending before the board, I shall vote no because the rezoning for Kimball-Hill as I understand it, will not be for the best interest of the community.

Com. William Busse,
Coral Gables, Florida.

New District Info'

No doubt Mr. Seiler is a careful reader as well as a prolific pen pusher, and the undersigned may be one of those unpardonable punks known as a "once over lightly" reader. But I am trying to find out what the gentleman means.

I am not a glutton for punishment and may have to give up the effort, as I am still in the dark as to just how H. B. 6 is going to benefit residents of the present seventh district.

Disregarding the irrelevant comments apparently inspired by my reference to the hullabaloo, will Mr. Seiler give the readers some pertinent facts, keeping in mind that I have not attacked the bill? (Only the lack of definite information about it.)

When I first read about the bill I got the impression that there were to be four new districts. Perhaps I came to that conclusion because I could not imagine how anyone could be benefited by merely changing the district lines. I believe the voting in the legislature is controlled by the number of senators and representatives who vote and not by the number of individual voters registered in each district. If more districts were created in the rural part of the state I think I can see the chance of domination in the legislature, if the members from the farming districts and the small town areas outnumbered the members from the cities, and were disposed to give the city people the worst of the deal.

Mr. Seiler wants me to "stand up and be identified," with the ultimate aim of having me shout with him. I could do that, but now that I am safe behind a nom de plume, why can't Mr. Seiler, out of his thoough knowledge of the matter, tell all readers just what the bill will do, omitting the personalities and the plugs for Mrs. Van Der Vries and Mr. Arrington? I think there may be many readers who will not concede that the past records of these Representatives should be considered rather than the merits of the proposed bill.

To Old Timers

We are grateful to the Palatine village board for giving us a chance to vote on the choice of village government. I am sure the majority of the people of West Palatine feel the same way.

You built this village slow but solid, a clean village, an honest village, a good village, and we intend to help you keep it that way.

I always try on a pair of shoes before buying them. I have tried your way for size and it fits perfectly.

I believe if more people would wear shoes that fit instead of trying to keep in style, we would have less sore feet.

Fred Dickover
Palatine.

Builders' Refuse

Numerous property owners of our Stonegate Association have brought to my attention the poor job of housekeeping being done by some builders erecting homes in this area. I must say I was not entirely oblivious of this condition since on many a windy day I have watched empty cement bags, wrapping paper of various sizes and shapes, insulation boards, shingles, and the hundred and one bits of refuse that are discarded while one is in process of building a house blow across my lawn to ultimately come to rest on a neighbor's lawn across the street (or a block away if the breeze is stiff.) Along with many other residents of Arlington Heights, I feel that I have removed enough of this debris from my shrubbery to justify submitting a bill for refuse removal services to these delinquent builders.

I do not believe all of the builders operating in Arlington Heights are guilty of such indescretions and bad community manners. At least, I hope not. I appreciate that many of these builders do not live in our village and can go home at nights to their own well kept lawns that are not cluttered up with such rubbish. They might well bear in mind that the property owners of Arlington Heights are also entitled to some consideration. It becomes readily apparent why some builders are looked on with disfavor and antagonism; the result is of their own choosing.

I recommend that the Village warn such builders to cease and desist such actions; a system for refuse disposal should be set up; the police should be notified if violations continue. There is such a thing as maintaining a nuisance.

◆ Just Around The Corner ◆

from PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

I am still a little dazzled by all the exquisite things my sweet No. 2 "Mother" and I saw at the Greater Chicago antiques show and sale, and by the wonderful time we had the day we attended this exhibit. "Mother" arrived at our apartment about noon, just as I was finishing giving the girls their lunches. Since I had bathed and dressed Megan and Bridget for their naps, they were ready to hop into bed after a brief visit with "Gamma" and a kiss "good night" for her.

How quickly we can get to the "loop" now on our newly constructed super highway! The show was held at the Lake Shore club, so we decided to have our lunch just about six blocks away, in the quaint little Cape Cod room in the Drake hotel. For "atmosphere" delicious sea food and polite service, I don't think you can beat it. Although our waiter suggested the rainbow trout dinner, we settled on a shrimp salad and were delighted when he brought each of us a huge, bright red tomato filled to overflowing with fresh shrimp. A maple nut parfait and coffee topped off our tasty luncheon.

OUTSIDE THE DRAKE we hailed a cab and within a few minutes arrived at the Lake Shore club. One of the most attractive displays was the arrangement of pine furniture that we saw as we entered. Included in this grouping, and especially lovely, was the graceful Queen Anne design lady's desk, with its delicately carved brass fixtures.

It was evident that each dealer had brought his most outstanding pieces, however, as is so often true of antique shows, there was just too much to see — although we went around several times, I never did feel that I had seen everything on all the tables and shelves.

We were looking forward to seeing "Decorator's Row," an exhibit of antiques used in a contemporary setting, however, we were quite disappointed. We didn't even realize we were looking at these settings until we had reached the end of the aisle and saw a sign that read "Decorator's Row." The problem seemed to be the lack of space; for, just as the dealers' booths were so awfully crowded together, so these tiny rooms were squashed together along one aisle. We also felt that the settings were artificial — the modern pieces and colors were too extreme, too stuffed with antiques, and lacked the proper subtlety necessary to a pleasing blend of antique and contemporary.

WE ENJOYED SEEING the fine collection of American eagles, which you may have seen on TV a few days ago. One especially interesting eagle's head, I understand, came from the bow of an early 1700's ship. "Mother" and I were amused at the preponderance of eagles in evidence throughout the show, obviously due to the publicity given this collection.

Shortly before we left, we passed a display of Currier and Ives lithographs, and at the same time, we both spotted "The Little Sisters"—two very sweet, old fashioned, little girls standing each with an arm about the other. The picture is unusually well preserved and the color clear and warm. Nothing would do but that "Mother" buy the picture for me (I must admit I didn't resist very much — and it does look very attractive against our brown walls).

The entire day was a very pleasant treat, and having a dear friend to share it with made it twice as much fun.

My love,
Patty.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Spring is here again, and all the little doggies are on the run once more. With jowls parted in friendly grins, the boys gather in gangs, or travel singly from tree to fire plug up and down the villages and cities of our nation, too hopeful for weariness, too eager for caution.

The resultant dog fights incited by short tempers and great competition in their "affairs de l'amour" are unseemly, even though innocent on the dog's part, inspired by a law of nature which seems to have been irresistable since the beginning of creation and necessary for the preservation of the species.

DAMAGE TO moist lawns, evergreens and youthful, budding flower gardens under the unrestricted privileges of free love for dogs is widespread, causing friction between neighbors and friends of long standing. Children encountering such unashamed displays of nature in the raw are inspired to ask questions before it is time to give answers; and not unfrequently in an effort to "protect" their doggies from the consequences of the emotional melees they find themselves in, children are bitten.

This leads directly to the doctor's office and a series of anti-rabie shots for the child if the dog is not identified; and to the dog pond for Fido if he is.

MAN'S OWN experience with anti-social love fetes should lead him to expect the worst from such canine co-habitation, and inspire him to keep Fido and Mimi on a leash, or in the back yard until springtime's impassioned emotions have cooled for another six months. By far the great majority of canine foster parents are responsible in their civic pride and duty; but just enough of them believe in letting Fido have his fling to upset the "even tenor of our way."

So this spring, folks, let's keep the doggies under control as a civic duty, and out of respect for the flower beds and lawns belonging to our neighbors, not "de-control" them until the time for canine love fetes has passed.

Authentic English Mansion

A home that captures the fancy and excites the imagination. Its feudal splendor has aroused awesome admiration in all who have seen it. Rustic and massive, its charm will thrill any whose interests run in the "pipe and tweed" vein. Despite its great spaciousness (8 rms., 2 baths and 2 car att. gar.) and obvious high quality and cost, its taxes and heating expenses are amazingly low. Built in 1940. Beautifully landscaped estate-like grounds, 150x150. Just 4 short blocks to depot. Priced at ½ its reproduction cost at $32,500.

A Ranch Home Of Subtle Quality

Always have there been things of outstanding quality-treasures with a quiet richness that speaks for itself. A perfect gem, a master's painting, a Rolls Royce car, a fine piece of Dresden—without ballyhoo or frills, YOU KNOW they're in a class by themselves.

Such is the case in this fine residence in the Country Club section. Inside and out it leaves no doubt of its superiority. The plan is second to none for graciousness-center foyer entrance; flanked on right by a spacious liv. rm., apart and formal; din. rm. and kitch. to the left; 3 lovely bedrms. to the rear, each having direct access from hall. One is paneled in solid mahogany planking, honey tan in color. With its large picture window and book shelves, it makes the perfect and practical comb. guest room-den. Bath, powder rm., kitch., recr, rm., hobby rm., and patio are all you'll expect them to be. Beautiful cor. site with yard and barbecue enclosed in rail fencing; 2 car gar. Irreplaceable at $47,500.

At Orchestra Hall

The world premier of a work by the distinguished American composer, Evanstonian Gardner Read, and the solo appearance of Julius Baker, principal flute of the orchestra, share the spotlight at this week's concerts of the Chicago symphony orchestra under Rafael Kubelik at Orchestra Hall.

Kubelik opens the program Thursday evening, April 9, and Friday afternoon, April 10, with the suite for flute and string orchestra by George Philip Telemann, contemporary of Bach and Handel.

Young instrumentalists and vocalists who aspire to careers on the concert stage are offered an opportunity to audition for solo engagements with the Chicago symphony orchestra in next season's series of young people's concerts.

George Schick, associate conductor, has set the audition dates for Monday, May 4, and Tuesday, May 5, from 9:30 a. m. to 3 p. m.

The auditions are open to instrumentalists under 16 years of age, and vocalists who have not yet reached their 20th birthdays.

Lighting Tips for Homemakers

Unlike the more familiar filament bulbs, the life of your flourescent lamps is shortened by turning them on and off unnecessarily. G-E lighting people point out that it is wise economy to keep fluorescent burning when you leave a room for a short while.

Speaking of fluorescent light, don't forget how much more attractive both room furnishing and guests will look if you choose De Luxe lamps. Now available in both De Luxe Warm or De Luxe Cool for warm or cool atmospheres these lamps are ideal for home use. G-E specialists advise that De Luxe Cool flourescent is usually preferred in crisp, modern interiors while the warm, mellow De Luxe Warm flourescent is ideal in traditional rooms.

If you're building a new home be sure to consider the placement of your furniture before lighting fixtures are installed. Many dining areas today are planned for off-center placement of the dining table. If you plan to keep your table against a wall, do arrange to have the fixture installed so that it is over the table even though it is off center. New types of dining room fixtures with a center spotlight make it more important than ever that the table and fixture be related so you can enjoy the additional sparkle from the spotlight on your table.

If you're doing a bit of spring cleaning in your china cupboards you know first hand how quickly a film of greasy black dirt can collect. This same film of dirt also collects on bulbs, bowls and lighting fixtures and, in addition to dulling their beauty, it also cuts down their efficiency. Even a thin film of dust or dirt wastes light for which you are paying. Plan to dust bulbs weekly and wash diffusing bowls and fixture globes often.

Banish bare-bulb glare in minutes. New mushroom shaped 50 and 100 GA bulbs can quickly convert uncomfortable bare bulb fixtures into soft, attractive lighting units.

Use the 50-watt GA bulbs in shower-type fixtures with two or more sockets in a downward position. Choose the larger 100 GA bulbs in single socket fixtures in kitchens or hallways.

Yodelers And Watches Just A Small Part Of Switzerland

by BONNIE PETERSON

On the mention of Switzerland one usually thinks of Swiss cheese, yodelers, high mountains and clocks — and it's true all of these things exist in this small country, but there are many more things which one might miss at first glance.

Switzerland, itself, is about the size of Wisconsin, has the population of Chicago and yet has more beauty, more unique sights than any other area of its size in the world. It is justly called the photographers' haven, a tourist's favorite spot, and a vacationer's perennial favorite, for within a few hours drive you can see the highest snow-hooded mountains in Europe, the calm blue lakes of the valleys, tiny secluded villages and bustling industrial cities.

THE SWISS are a truly patriotic people. They make their Democratic government work unfailingly like their famous clocks. Every man ballots as many as 12-15 times a year and is generally much concerned with the activities of his government. Since the country is almost void of natural resources, it depends almost entirely on the work of its people to build its economy.

It has the highest standard of living in Europe (second only to U. S.) and has achieved this only through the earnest work of its people and their sincere desire to build a strong nation.

Since Switzerland is stuck right in the middle of often belligerent countries, it must be strong or else risk being swallowed by Austria, France, Italy or Germany, and yet, amazingly so, it has remained neutral for over 400 years. It has only the mountains, with the aid of a small but strong Swiss army for protection.

EVERY MAN is a member of the military force. At 20 a boy has four months training "refreshed" every year for two or three weeks until he is 40 when length of service is reduced to one week.

This system would be bitterly opposed in the States, but here it proves satisfactory and few complain.

The Swiss family is closely knit. Neither parents nor children have their freedom as Americans do, but they still enjoy individuality. Children are strictly disciplined and this is carried out in the school.

AT SIX a child enters primary school and, unlike our schools, their learning is restricted to text books. They have recess periods for play, but music, art and social life are not emphasized as they are in our schools. Every child must be a student — this is evidenced by what you see when the bell rings at four o'clock every day.

Instead of boys running to the playground with bats and balls you see smiling girls and boys dressed in colorful smocks to protect their clothing gaily walking home, but in their hands or strapped on their backs are brief cases filled with books for three or four hours homework.

They atend school 4½ days a week. Thursday is a day off, but they have one half day of classes on Saturday.

THURSDAY afternoon is also a holiday for shopkeepers. But in larger cities, most people do much of their shopping in the open markets where there are endless rows of open vegetable stands and vendors calling their wares. We find this fun because it's something that doesn't eqist at home.

But even more tantalizing are the windows of the Boulangeries (bakeries). Here you can find endless varieties of delicious cakes and sweets. Many of them are made with famous Swiss chocolate, others are flavored with Kirsch (a strong cherry wine), rum, coffee or fruits.

You could try a different one every day of the year and still find new varieties when you pass a shop window.

OTHER FAMOUS Swiss foods are made of cheese and wines, but the Swiss national dish is Fondue. It is a mixture of Gruyere (a type of cheese), Kirsch, white wine and seasoning. This is heated over a chaffing dish and the six or seven people sitting at your table dip cubes of bread into the bubbling blend and wash it down with white wine.

If you are invited into someone's home for Fondue, you can consider them very fond of you because you share their family dish.

The Swiss young people have a custom which requires anyone who loses a cube of bread in the pot to kiss the person on the right. So it is only with "special people" that you choose to eat Fondue.

THOUGH THE Swiss may consider eating one of their favorite pastimes, another is skiing. With the high Alps, the Jura and the Tyral mountains surrounding them on all sides, there are endless possibilities for skiing. Children learn to ski almost as soon as they learn to walk, and even great grandparents thrill at the sport. In some less populated areas, skis or sleds are the only means of transportation in the winter months. But even the city people make mass migrations on week ends and come back to work Monday morning sporting a bronzed or sunburned face during the skiing season from October to May.

In Geneva are the homes of the Red Cross, the League of Nations and the Calvinist Church. Many other world wide organizations have their headquarters in this city. It is really the land of peace and appears so from the high hill on which the U. N. O. building stands and reigns over the city.

The other main cities — Zurich, Bern, Luzerne and Bale are centers of industry where fine machinery and delicate watches are produced and exported to other countries in exchange for raw material. It is fascinating to watch the giant steam turbines turn and then to see the finished product as small as your little finger knowing they come from such gigantic machinery.

SWITZERLAND IS a country of hope, of friendliness, sincerity and honesty and you love it from the minute you enter its borders to the second you leave. It can be described in many ways, but I think it is best compared to a watch.

It is surprisingly small and compact; it has a variety of parts; it is assembled miraculously so it works and is unfailing; and once you're familiar with it, you become attached to it and hate to ever have to part with such a prized thing.

Evergreens Hurt In '52 Drought Best Pruned Later

With the first harbingers of Spring, some home owners whip out the trusty pruning shears to get evergreens into shape real early. Where an area was hard hit by last summer's widespread drought, the week-end gardener will be well advised to wait until new growth has started before trimming. This is particularly good advice for such sensitive specimens as boxwood and Japanese holly.

W. R. Strickland, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., says moderate pruning normally is beneficial to plants at almost any season. but where drought strikes, the extent of the injury to plant life is rarely apparent until well into the following growing season.

Only later in the year can the full extent of die-back be appraised. This delayed action often is confusing to the home owner who may mistakingly attribute damage to spraying or some other special Spring care although actually the injury has resulted from unfavorable conditions that occurred during the dry months of 1952.

Frequently, evergreens are so badly afflicted by drought, it takes them several seasons to recover a good semblance of their normal beauty. Deciduous trees are victims, too, but more often it is the evergreen that is most susceptible. The home owner who provided his evergreens with plenty of water in the late Fall can expect a minimum of drought-injury trouble later. Because they are in foliage the year 'round, evergreens give off moisture in Winter, too. Without water available, they are more likely to show visible injury than their deciduous cousins.

Boys With Bikes Hitch Rides On Trains

The Milwaukee Railroad wants some young boys, presumably from Glenview, to stop risking their lives.

Railroad authorities asked police to prevent the lads from hitching rides on their bikes at the back of the 5 p. m. Chicago-bound trains.

Wilson Community

School Board

For the purpose of acquainting the district with the ten candidates for the school board, the following information is given:

John M. Danielson, resident of Chestnut rd., for the past four years. Interested in civic organizations in Chicago prior to moving to this district. Mr. Danielson has one son in the army air force.

Robert C. Huebner, resident of N. State rd. for the past 5½ years. PTA member, past president of the Community club and Arlington Knolls Association, interested in Boy Scouts. Will have two children attending Wilson school next fall.

Richard G. Hurlburt, present incumbent of the school board, running for re-election, having served one year. PTA member, and assists with the Cub Scouts. Has three children attending Wilson school.

Gust O. Johnson, resident of the district for six years. Officer of the Community club, and will have one child in school this fall.

Gilbert J. Klehm, born and raised in this area. Wheeling township supervisor for 14 years, prior to which he was Justice of the Peace for ten years. Local business man, operating the Klehm Nursery, Palatine rd.

Donald C. Nygren, resident of the district for two years. PTA member. District chairman of Community Chest and Red Cross drive in Chicago. Captain in the air force for four years, and now a business man in Chicago. Interested in school welfare. Will have one child in school in the fall.

Dorothy M. Rice, resident of the district for several years. Two children attending Wilson school. PTA member and past officer. Interested in education and school welfare.

Arthur C. Schroeder, present incumbent of the school board, running for re-election. Has served on the school board for six years. PTA and Community club member. Republican precinct captain for this district. Has one child attending Wilson school.

Florence Thompson, resident of Pinegate for past 3½ years. One child attending Wilson school. President of the PTA, secretary of the Community club last year.

Margaret L. Wallor, resident of the general area for the past 15 years, having resided on Palatine rd. for the past five years. Charter member of Wilson PTA and president of the association for two terms. News reporter for this district. Interested in education and school welfare. Has one child attending Wilson school.

Vote On School Year

In addition to electing seven of these candidates for the school board, the district will also vote on the following: "Shall the Board of Education of Wilson School district 24, Cook county, State of Illinois, have the power to extend the school term beyond the present nine month period?" According to law, school must be in session 185 days each year, or be deprived of state aid. This financial aid is based on enrollment and attendance of students, and therefore varies each year. When students are absent, the state aid decreases. In case of emergency, such as a bad storm, epidemic or other reasons that would make the closing of the school necessary, it might be very difficult, if not impossible, to have 185 school days from September 1 to May 31. The teachers' salaries are based on 185 teaching days, therefore there would be no increase in cost of school operations through an extension to the nine month period. School would be in session in June only for enough days to complete the 185 school days, if needed. The state aid is used for the cost of school operation only, and not for building purposes.

PTA To Meet

The next PTA meeting will be held April 11 at which time there will be election of officers. The program committee has planned a round table discussion on general educational topics. Mrs. Frank Moskal will be the moderator.

Mary Kingsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Kingsley of Rand rd., has been accepted into the National Honor society of Arlington Heights township high school. The honor is based on character, leadership, scholarship and service and Mary was one of 13 in her class of about 200 to receive the honor. She is a graduate of Wilson school and is in her junior year at the high school. She visited Purdue university last week-end as a guest of a girl friend.

Plan Card Party

The Community club will hold a card party at Wilson school Saturday, April 11, at 8 p. m. Tickets are available from members or at the door.

Whodunit?

BASILA, of course, has solved the mystery of what to wear for the clan's gathering at the TV set . . . or for any leisure moments when comfort and charm are elementary. All the clues add up to a fabulous new duster of vivid Oriental plisse print with a short mandarin collar, five-button front and a jet-black belt. It bears investigating in red, black or teal.

Thinking of giving your winter-tired rooms the refreshing "spring tonic" of bright new wallpaper? You'll make the job so much easier for yourself if you take a hint from Webber Paint Co. and use their new eZe Hang Wallpaper Adhesive. With this new product you can hang the wallpaper dry . . . it's the easy way to apply with no tools, no muss. You apply the adhesive to any clean, smooth wall—painted, papered, plaster or plaster board, and it remains workable for one-half to one hour after application. No sizing is necessary; just roll on generously and evenly and cover enough wall to hang 3 or 4 strips of paper. When hanging the paper start in a corner or next to a door or window and use pre-trimmed paper. eZe Hang Wallpaper Adhesive is available in quart and gallon sizes.

And when you're all finished you'll prolong the life of the paper by applying Resistane, a plastic coating for making wallpaper stain resisting. Resistane has a flat finish and dries to a transparent sunfast film. It contains no inflammable solvents, and will not cause colors to run on even unwashable papers. It makes all papers resist water, cooking vapors, dirt or soot, finger marks, greases, oils, fats, etc. Get your decorating needs at Webber Paint Co.

About Your Health

Education is needed to prevent accidents of all types. Indeed knowledge and adherence to safety rules would reduce the number of deaths and the loss of an arm, leg or an eye, and particularly the number of broken bones.

A fracture is an interruption or a break in the continuity of a bone. A fracture may be closed or one in which the skin is not broken, or it may be open in which the skin is broken. Sometimes in the more severe types of open fractures, the bones may even protrude through the skin.

THERE ARE MANY variations in the two types. For example the fracture may be transverse, comminuted, or broken in more than two pieces. And then the fracture may be spiral, angulated, or displaced, according to the position of the bone ends after the force causing the fracture has ceased.

Fractures may also be complete or broken entirely through, or incomplete in which the bone is merely cracked or broken partially through. This latter group includes greenstick fractures frequently seen in children. They are called greenstick because just as a green piece of wood will often bend before it breaks so the bones of children will bend and crack, but will not always break through.

BONES ARE BROKEN through falls, when twisted, when struck by another object, or if the body is thrown off balance in such a manner to cause an unusual force to be applied to the bone. Symptoms indicating a fracture include swelling, discoloration, blisters or blebs on the skin, pain and unusual or flexible motion in areas where joints are not present. While there is usually inability to bear weight or move the extremity, or motion is limited and painful, it should be remembered that some of the most serious fractures often are present when weight bearing and motion are possible, although usually painful.

There are variations in the treatment of fractures and variations too in the length of time for healing to be effected. Bone is really living tissue; it requires blood and the life giving chemicals that blood supplies, just as other tissues in the body require. The healing of the fracture is dependent on the injury to the blood supply. When the soft tissues and surrounding areas are not healed, then the normal circulation cannot be given to the fracture, causing a delay in healing not only of the bone, but of the soft tissues, muscles and tendons that furnish motion to the injured extremity.

Healing takes place by the bridging of the break with new bone derived from the rough fracture ends and the coverings of the bone. This bridge is usually laid down in the blood clot ordinarily found at the fracture site, and the process is called callus formation. To encourage callus formation, the fracture must be reduced. In other words the ends of the bone must be brought back into a normal position so that the fracture ends are in contact with each other

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

What Methodists Believe

(One of a series of statements concerning the beliefs of Methodists as written by bishops of the Methodist church.)

WE BELIEVE IN ETERNAL LIFE

Jesus speaks words of eternal life. They are clear words, spoken simply and with complete assurance. "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me." (John 14:1).

Belief in God is basic. Without it, the life we now live is both barren and meaningless, and the future is empty of hope. In contrast, when we believe in God with something of the Master's undoubting wisdom, even the commonplace is touched with glory. If we believe that God is our dependable Father, and that His Love is the most enduring thing in the universe, we can live today in quietness and confidence and face tomorrow unafraid.

"Believe also in me." To believe in God and in Jesus, who reveals God, is to begin to live eternal life here and now. We do not need to wait until we die. Immortality does not come with the calendar. It is a spiritual achievement. It is realized through comradeship with and commitment to Jesus as Redeemer and Guide. "I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live!" He said to Martha (John 11:25). His statement is present tense. There is no long period of waiting. "Today," He promised the dying thief, "you will be with me in paradise" (Luke 23:43).

Last of all, as if to bind His promises into one shining bundle of life and send it singing down the centuries, Jesus said, "If it were not so, I would have told you" (John 14:2). We have His word, and we can depend on it.

Death is not the end. It is the beginning. It is not defeat. It is victory in the name and power of one who assures us, "Because I live, you shall live also" (John 14:19).

—Glenn Randall Phillips

Lessons In .... English

by W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "The reason for asking you is because I must know at once." Say, "The reason for asking you is that I must know at once."

Do not say, "I have every confidence in you." Say, "implicit (or, entire) confidence in you."

When "extra" is combined with an adjective, a hyphen should be used, as, "extra-fine wire," and "extra-thin cord."

Distinguish between "beside" and "besides." Say, "I sat beside (by the side of) George." "Besides (in addition to) wealth, he has health."

Do not say, "It is better than a week since I talked with him." Say, "It has been more than a week."

Do not say, "I brang (or, brung) the book you requested." Say, "I brought the book." There are no such words as "brang" or "brung."

Words Often Mispronounced

Aggregate. Pronounce the last syllable as gate, not as get.

Pharmaceutical. Pronounce farma-su-ti-kal, first a as in far, second a unstressed, u as in use, final a as in add, principal accent on third syllable.

Trite; worn or hackneyed; commonplace. "That was a trite remark."

Audacity; boldness; daring confidence. "One must have a certain amount of audacity to succeed in life."

Unkempt; not combed; disheveled. "Mary's face was dirty, and her hair unkempt."

Incoherently; in an unconnected manner; without due connection of parts. "He poured out his story very fast and incoherently."

Uses Gasoline To Clean Basement, Then Calls Fire Department

The fact that gasoline vapors being spread in the basement of a home can be dangerous was proved to Barrington firemen in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jack English at 206 West Russell st., Barrington.

When the firemen responded to a call from the residence, they discovered that gasoline had been used to wash the floor in the basement. The fumes from the gasoline had spread quickly through the building space, as vapors will do. When the oil burner ignited just at that time in response to a thermostatic call for heat upstairs, the gasolinevapors in the basement also ignited.

The flash fire scorched woodwork and the firemen were hailed in a hurry to save the home. They said the gasoline used came from a gallon jug.
